MOUNTAINEERS OUT

Believe Pilot Lost Way In Storm and Forced to Land In Rough Country

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 19.—(UP)—Aircraft from all over Southern California joined today in a systematic search over the Tehachapi mountains for a trace of the Pacific air transport plane that disappeared Monday morning while enroute from here to San Francisco.

Planes were out from Bakersfield, Burbank, Los Angeles and other points, all centering their hunt in the general vicinity of the rugged territory around Lebec on the Ridge Route road.

P. A. T. authorities said that at least 35 ships were aiding in the search today. The territory was blocked off in sections and each craft assigned to thoroughly cover one district.

By this method it was hoped to explore every foot of the district in which it was believed the P. A. T. plane might have gone down.

Other search parties were working out of Lebec by foot and by automobile.

The last plane last was heard from shortly after 2 a. m. Monday morning when it radioed that it was fighting a blizzard. Flavius A. Donaldson, pilot of the ship, indicated he was not sure of his position but it was believed he was near Lebec.

With Donaldson in the plane were George Rogers, Burbank, a mechanic, and Miss J. Markow, daughter of Mrs. L. M. Smith, of Los Angeles. Miss Markow was enroute to Portland.

Donaldson's last radio message at 2:07 a. m. read: "Still over fog. Altitude 9000 feet. Do not know position." It was estimated, however, that he was somewhere in the vicinity of Lebec, a small settlement 30 miles south of Bakersfield. The ship was due in Bakersfield at 1:10 a. m.

No word had been received from a ground searching party which was combing the slopes of Frazier mountain, 10 miles west of Lebec, where a light was reported seen last night.

Searching planes were hampered yesterday by another snowstorm which made for poor visibility.

RICHARD W. CHILD SUED FOR DIVORCE

NEWPORT, R. I., Nov. 19.—(UP)—The third wife of Richard Washburn Child, former ambassador to Italy, is suing him for divorce.

Extreme cruelty is alleged in Mrs. Child's petition. She is the former Eva Sanderson. They were married in 1927. Elizabeth Scott, whom Child married in 1904, and Maude Parker, whom he married in 1916, both divorced him.

DO-X Not To Make U. S. Flight, Claim

LISBON, Nov. 19.—(UP)—The giant Dornier flying boat DO-X will not make its proposed flight from the Azores to New York, Cudell Goertz, representative of the Dornier company at Lisbon, said today.

The DO-X will arrive here Thursday, Goertz said, and will remain for eight days. Two demonstration flights will be made, during which President Carmona and other prominent Portuguese are expected to be passengers. The flying boat will continue to the Azores and return here later, Goertz said.

BUSINESS IN MADRID AGAIN NORMAL TODAY

Police and Civil Guards Patrol Streets When Shops Reopened

MADRID, Spain, Nov. 19.—(UP)—Strong police guards armed with rifles and supported by concentrations of civil guards returned the capital's business to normal today despite Communist efforts to continue a general strike and labor disorders.

Madrid police arrested more than three score agitators and continued to round up and detain other persons suspected of plotting new disturbances in connection with the general strikes and rioting, which started in Madrid last Friday and spread to other Spanish cities.

The general strike at Barcelona was limited to factories, workshops and building construction workers this afternoon, with the rest of the great industrial city comparatively normal after two days of rioting in which four persons were killed and scores hurt.

At Seville a strike was called in sympathy with the Madrid and Barcelona strikes, which originally grew out of building construction workers' demands for greater safety laws. Disorders accompanied the start of the Seville strike, which halted all the activity in the city.

Similar strikes were in effect in various other cities, including Alicante, Tarragona, Reus, Esplugas, Matro and Bandalona.

Authorities in Madrid took extraordinary precautions against renewal of disorders by agitators, calling civil guard reinforcements from the provinces.

Strikes were declared at Crense, where 800 railroad workers walked out, and at Zamora and Coruna.

DAVID BELASCO'S CONDITION GRAVE

NEW YORK, Nov. 19.—(UP)—The condition of David Belasco, veteran showman and producer, continued grave today, although he seemed more concerned over the fact that he had missed for the first time the opening performance of one of his plays than that he was seriously ill.

As the curtain rose on the premiere of "Tonight or Never" last night Belasco pleaded with Dr. Jerome B. Wagner, his physician, to be allowed to go. The doctor refused, in spite of Belasco's argument that it was the first of his more than 400 openings that he had missed.

SUSPECT JAILED IN THEFT OF NECKLACE

SACRAMENTO, Nov. 19.—(UP)—Leo Smith, 32, motion picture operator, was under arrest here today, the first suspect in the $5000 diamond necklace theft at the Best-O'Neill wedding in Woodland November 1, to be taken into custody.

Smith will be returned to Woodland on a warrant sworn to by Paul O'Neill, deputy district attorney of Sacramento county. The necklace disappeared during the ceremony marking his marriage to Betty Best, daughter of a wealthy tractor manufacturer,

India Warns Of Open War On British

Unless Dominion Status Is Granted Indians Will Resort to Arms

LONDON, Nov. 19.—(UP)—A threat of warfare against British authority unless dominion status is granted in India was made today at the round table conference discussing the framing of a new Indian constitution.

Dr. B. S. Moonje, leading a discussion in behalf of the nationalistic element of India, was outspoken in a declaration that India had reached "the parting of ways" with Britain.

"It is a question of whether India is to be complementary to England or to be in opposition," said Moonje, who was once imprisoned for participation in the civil disobedience movement. "In the latter case there may be constant warfare, trouble and repression. The time has passed and will never come again when any show of physical force will cow the Indian people."

"British officials in India are mistaken if they think the civil disobedience volunteers can be cowed or subjugated by any kind of repression. This is the parting of ways for the British and ourselves. If fear and suspicion may not lead you to offer dominion status of your own accord then I say we will be satisfied with nothing less than a full and responsible government."

The Maharajah of Patiala, ruler of the largest state in the Punjab and a famous soldier who controls the lives of some 1,250,000 natives, spoke as leader of the Indian states delegates, saying he believed the quickest method of achieving dominion status was through creation of a federal system of government.

Sirdar Ujjal Singh, representing the war-like Sikhs, emphasized the military aspects of dominion status, advocating an Indian army or, otherwise, full dominion status. He as well as other speakers, favored the federal system.

YOUNG FLIER OFF ON RECORD FLIGHT

NEWARK, N. J., Nov. 19.—(UP)—Gerald P. Nettleton, 20-year-old Toledo, flier left the Newark airport at 8:30 a. m. today for Columbus O. in an attempt to lower the junior transcontinental flight record.

Nettleton will refuel at Columbus and then proceed to St. Louis. He is flying a cabin monoplane with a maximum speed of 130 miles per hour.

He is carrying a typewriter to facilitate his work for a newspaper syndicate.

The present junior transcontinental record of 23 hours and three minutes is held by Stanley Boynton 18, of Maine.

Kills Self When Officers Arrive To Serve Warrant

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 19.—(UP)—Had W. W. King, 40, read the papers, he might be alive today.

Such, at least, was the inference of police, who heard King shoot himself as they rapped on his door to arrest him as a hit-run driver.

King, salesman for a refrigerator company, was traced through his license tag as the supposed driver of a car that Sunday night struck down Edwin Zarul and did not stop. Spectators obtained the license number and told police.

Detectives said today that King must have anticipated their coming last night and must have mistakenly believed his victim had died. On the contrary Zarul will recover.

BOARDS OF DIRECTORS FOR SIXTY-NINE CLOSED BANKS HOPE TO OPEN THEM SOON

CHICAGO, Nov. 19.—(UP)—Curtains were drawn and closing signs hung today on the doors of 69 banks in six central and south central states as boards of directors held conferences to determine when most of them might be reopened without danger of experiencing runs.

The list of banks which had closed or suspended business since Monday morning was raised yesterday when 13 small Arkansas institutions joined with 40 others which previously had taken advantage of a state law allowing them to close for five days for reorganization.

The list of closing then was: Arkansas, 53; Kentucky, 8; Missouri, 4; Illinois, 2; Iowa, 1; and Indiana, 1.

Practically all of the closings in Arkansas and Kentucky resulted from fear of runs after the failure of Caldwell and Company at Memphis, Tenn., led to withdrawals of more than $4,000,000 on the American Exchange Trust company at Little Rock. The closings in Missouri and Illinois also were due to failure of larger institutions, all having deposits in two large Quincy, Ill., banks which failed.

In practically all cases, directors announced the closings were purely for the protection of depositors and predicted the institutions would reopen within five days after suspending business.

GOVERNMENT TO PROBE INTO GANGSTER THREATS AGAINST CALIFORNIA WINE GROWERS

WASHINGTON, Nov. 19.—(UP)—Threats by racketeers against California wine growers and sellers, a new phase of the modern development of gangster intimidation, have been called to the attention of the federal government with a request for protection.

The matter has been before the department of justice for a week or more but today no action had been taken and no agents assigned to the case.

Much significance was attached to the department's position. Its ultimate action probably will clarify the government's stand regarding distribution of a grape product from which wine easily can be made. The business was about to branch out on a large scale when gangsters threatened reprisals in apparent fear that it might cut into their beer sale. If the grape concentrate is given government approval, the case may broaden into a show down of the power of racketeering against legitimate trade.

The government's right to prevent any interference with interstate commerce is the weapon that could be used. Assistant Attorney General John Lord O'Brien acted for his department in receiving the complaints. He said the department was not decided as to its procedure.

Mrs. Mabel Walker Willebrandt, former assistant attorney general in charge of prohibition cases, is the Washington legal representative of California fruit industries, one of the co-operative organizations engaged in promoting the new grape-by-product. Details of her complaint to O'Brien were not revealed.

A connection already exists between the government and the grape industry, for the federal farm board advanced about $16,000,000 to growers. The board accepted the view that sale of the grape concentrate was legal.

So far as the prohibition bureau is concerned, there has been no move to interfere with wine for home consumption. However, the justice department has never ruled on the legality of sale of a grape by-product which becomes alcoholic after delivery.

In addition the child in each class submitting the second best colored picture, also will receive a photograph free.

ALFRED HAWLEY ANSWERS CALL AT NOON TODAY

Pioneer Had Been Active In Business Here Since 1887

Alfred E. Hawley, 83, pioneer citizen of Santa Ana and Orange county, died at noon today at his home at 1101 French street, after an illness which had been growing steadily worse for the past several years.

A native of Cambridge, Vt., where he was born in 1847, Mr. Hawley came to California in 1887. At that time he purchased a small stock of sporting goods, and since that time has enlarged the business until today it is one of the largest in the county.

In spite of his advanced age, Mr. Hawley attended to his business at his sporting goods store here at 305 North Sycamore street until 1928, when he retired, turning the business over to his son, Otto J. Hawley, who has been at the head of it since that time. Poor health at that time caused Mr. Hawley to retire, and his condition has rapidly become worse since then.

Is Captured After Chase Over Roofs

Escapes From Fingerprint Room on Excuse to Wash His Hands

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 19.—(UP)—Executing some stunts which equaled the movie stunts of Douglas Fairbanks, Ronald Brian, 20, one of two bandits who confessed robbing the noted actor's home, tried a spectacular jail escape here today by dashing across the roofs of buildings.

Brain had been fingerprinted and asked permission to step into a wash room and remove ink from his fingers. He then wiggled out of a window to the roof of the jail. From the jail roof he made a 10-foot leap to another building, tottering for a moment on the edge of the neighboring roof before he gained his balance.

After scampering across several more roofs, Brain slipped down a stairway and ran into a hotel near First and Broadway. He entered the room of D. Bachelier, 50, and seized the elderly man's overcoat to cover the fact that he was in his shirt sleeves.

Bachelier was too astounded to seize the youth but as Brian again ran through the hotel lobby by some guests and bell boys took up the chase.

Meanwhile police had been doing a "Keystone cop" act over the roofs around central station. Sergeant O. E. A. Nord, finally overhauled Brian and the youth was taken back to headquarters where an additional charge of attempted escape was placed against him.

BOND HOUSE HEAD JAILED FOR FRAUD

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 19.—(UP)—One man was jailed today and two others, one said to be a member of the pioneer Dutton family, were sought in an alleged power bond fraud.

The charges involve the Roberts Investment company with offices in San Francisco, with detectives charging that $150,000 in bonds had been sold in the bay region without a permit.

R. L. Roberts, head of the firm, was arrested early today. The men sought as his alleged partners were named as Donald Dutton, of San Francisco, and Royal Kenny, address unknown.

Mrs. McPherson to Preach Sunday on Visit to Havana

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 19.—(UP)—Brimming with stories of the "iniquities" of Panama, Havana and New York City, Almee Semple McPherson, evangelist, will return to her pulpit here Sunday to regale her followers with tales of her visits with "Disciples of Satan."

Thirty pounds lighter and many years more youthful in appearance since her recent nervous breakdown and subsequent sea journey, "Sister" wired Angelus temple here today to inform her followers of her return.

HIT DIVORCE FRAUDS

RENO, Nev., Nov. 19.—(UP)—With the declared intention of halting further divorce frauds in Nevada, the state bar today filed a motion with Superior Judge Moran to set aside the divorce decree awarded to Mrs. Hattie R. Cohen.

Asserting that she moved to Reno on March 14 of this year, Mrs. Cohen secured a divorce from Max Cohen, of Chicago, on June 18. Actually, the motion read, Mrs. Cohen did not arrive in Reno until April 4. Three months' residence in Nevada is required for divorce at Reno and other points.

Human Bones Found On Mojave Desert

SAN BERNARDINO, Calif., Nov. 19.—(UP)—Bones discovered by a trapper on the Mojave desert might possibly be those of a victim of Gordon Stewart Northcott, the sheriff's office announced today.

The remains, found near Hesperia, were brought here by Stanley Carroll. The sheriff's office announced that a party would be sent to Hesperia to make a search for other parts of the skeleton.

Northcott was hanged at San Quentin recently for the slaying of three youths. The bodies never were found. The slayer drew many maps purporting to show the graves of his victims but all of them were false.

FROST WARNING FOR SOUTHLAND POSTED TODAY

Smudge Pots Put to Work In Many Citrus Groves During Last Night

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 19.—(UP)—Frost warnings for Southland California were posted today as clear and crisp weather prevailed in most of the region south of the Tehachapi mountain range.

Fair and cool with frost expected in exposed places was the prediction of the federal experts. Frosts or freezing temperatures were experienced in scattered localities last night.

Som of last night's low temperatures were Bonita 33, El Cajon 30, Escondido 32, Mt. Wilson 25, Redlands 33.

E. S. Ellison, government frost expert, said that citrus growers in the Southern California belt had smudge pots working during last night and that plans had been made for smoke protection again tonight.

While inland localities were experiencing the first chill of the season, high winds which caused some damage to trees and buildings, subsided. Winds along the sea coast also died down and shipping was reported normal after a day and a night of high seas.

The 55-foot boat Huachu, which was overdue a week at San Pedro from Santa Barbara, with a crew of seven aboard, dispelled fears for her safety by putting in at a cove near Santa Barbara after a stiff battle.

The barge Gratia and the navy repair ship Medusa, blown from their moorings by the waves, were recaptured.

VALLEY RESIDENTS FEAR BREAK IN DAM

HONOLULU, Nov. 19.—(UP)—Residents of Nuuanu valley, one of the exclusive sections of Nuuanu Pail, were prepared today to flee from their homes in the event that rising waters further weaken the dam of the reservoir located near there.

Radio broadcasts were sent out last night warning that the unusually heavy rainfalls of the past 24 hours had considerably strained the reservoir's supports.

Already several homes have been wrecked by the overflow of rushing waters that flooded roads and highways.

Squads of policemen patrolled the rim of the reservoir, ready to send out a command to evacuate in case the situation became more serious.

PASSENGERS REMOVED

LISBON, Nov. 19.—(UP)—All passengers of the British steamer Highland Hope were taken safely aboard the Portuguese government tug Patron Lopez at 8:30 a. m. today, and are proceeding to Lisbon, the ministry of marine told the United Press.

The Highland Hope went aground off Fairhoes island with 146 first class passengers, enroute from London to Buenos Aires. All passengers and crew were landed at Peniche, about 20 miles south of Lisbon.

LITTLE CITY OF BETHANY IS WRECKED

Cyclone Rips Path of 300 Feet Through Village Destroying 60 Homes

GUARD ORDERED OUT

All Communication With Stricken Town Disrupted By Severe Twister

OKLAHOMA CITY, Nov. 19.—(UP)—The number of known dead in a cyclone at Bethany, Okla., five miles from here reached nine at noon today.

At least 60 persons were injured, many of whom were brought to Oklahoma City hospitals.

The cyclone cut a swath 300 feet wide through the village, leveling more than 60 homes.

Bodies of three unidentified dead were brought to Oklahoma City shortly before noon. Forty injured had been received at Oklahoma City hospitals, and others were arriving.

Unconfirmed reports indicated there may have been a heavy loss of life.

All communication with the stricken town was disrupted, and many conflicting reports were received by authorities here.

Four companies of the Oklahoma national guard were ordered mobilized to be dispatched to Bethany if necessary.

Charles E. Barrett, adjutant general of the Oklahoma guard, left for Bethany to survey the situation.

Governor W. J. Holloway gave General Barrett instructions to invoke whatever measures he considered necessary upon his arrival at Bethany.

Details of police, firemen and deputy sheriffs hastened from Oklahoma City to Bethany, five miles distant.

Ambulances were ordered from all hospitals and mortuaries here, and Red Cross officials were asked to be ready to aid in relief work.

Advices received here at noon said the storm also demolished a schoolhouse southwest of Bethany. Two children were reported killed and 14 injured in the schoolhouse.

Mrs. W. O. Bounds gave an account of the disaster as she was treated in a hospital receiving ward here.

"I was working in the front part of our home when something struck the building. I looked up. The roof was gone."

"Debris and rain fell into the rooms. I rushed to the bedroom where my 11-months-old baby was sleeping."

"A timber had knocked him out of bed. He was not hurt seriously. 'Rain came in torrents and I was knocked down by the wind when I attempted to seek aid,' Mrs. Bounds said.

Adjutant General Charles E. Barrett, of the Oklahoma National Guard ordered three companies of troops to Bethany upon his return here from a hurried inspection of the damage.

Reports reached here that several homes had been made fit for occupancy and business houses in Bethany and a virtual state of martial law was ordered by General Barrett.

Sheriff Stanley Rogers asked the National Guard to supply hospital tents and cots immediately.

SUSPECT CONFESSES KILLING BROTHERS

BELLEVUE, Ky., Nov. 19.—(UP)—Breaking under police questioning, Samuel Kelly, 47, Cincinnati, admitted to detectives here today that he shot and killed Edward and John Gallagher, brothers, and seriously wounded Francis, another brother, as the climax of a quarrel in a shack on the outskirts of the city early this morning.

"They treated me rough," was Kelly's only explanation of the shooting.

The Gallagher brothers lived together in the shack. Edward, 35, was a former city commissioner. John was 60. Francis, 45, was wounded over the heart, refused to discuss the shooting until informed his brothers had been killed.

Local Men To Attend Wier Dedication

PROJECT WILL AID IN WATER CONSERVATION

A large delegation from Orange county is expected to attend the dedication ceremonies of the Santa Ana river diversion wier at the mouth of the upper Santa Ana canyon, east of San Bernardino, at 11 a. m. next Friday. The wier and conduits carrying water to the debris cone which is used as a spreading ground for sinking excess waters under the surface into underground reservoirs, has recently been completed and is to be dedicated to service at the meeting Friday.

Included in the group which is planning to be present at the ceremony marking the inauguration of service of this conservation project, which it is anticipated will relieve in some measure flood danger in Orange county and will assist in storing water in underground reservoirs from which

Orange county derives benefit, are John Mitchell, of the Orange county board of supervisors; W. W. Hoy, consulting engineer and member of the board of directors of the Tri-County Conservation association which backed the project; J. F. Burke, Mayor Frank Purinton, City Clerk Ed Vegely, City Councilmen J. L. McBride, Stanley Goode, Burt Sutton and W. J. Kelly; County Surveyor W. K. Hillyard; Nat Neff, county superintendent of highways; Murray Thompson, flood control engineer; Roy Browning, engineer for the Irvine company, and many others including members of the board of directors of the Newbert Protection district, Talbert Drainage district and Newport Drainage district, and delegations from Anaheim and Fullerton.

The wier and conduits have just been completed at a cost of approximately $70,000. The wier is some 480 feet wide, of reinforced concrete construction, and the distribution system includes a head-race, 700 feet in enclosed and 3000 feet is open. It conveys water, during times of flood or storm, to the spreading grounds where there are 14 contour dikes to check the flow of water and permit it to sink into the ground.

The project was organized and backed by the Tri-County Water Conservation association, including Orange, Riverside and San Bernardino counties, each of which contributed to the cost of the new construction.

Calvin Coolidge Says:

Former President of the United States

NORTHAMPTON, Nov. 19.—

Some times our country is charged with giving too much thought to the material things of life. The charge may appear more justified because in ordinary times the rank and file of our people are in such comfortable circumstances, so independent and well able to take care of themselves, that they make no appeal to the humanitarian sentiments. But if any catastrophe arises that is likely to cause real human suffering at home or abroad our response to the need for relief is generous and instantaneous.

The economic effect of the unemployed can be overestimated. It is the number at work, not the number out of work, that measures our business prosperity. But the need for assisting those not able to find work cannot be overestimated. The real human sympathy of all our people in every station and locality now is being most effectively revealed in the relief that is being provided through private charities and local governments. It demonstrates not only our ample ability to take care of each other but the existence and power of a deep and abiding community spirit. Our social system is not yet perfected but it is already the best and safest reliance in time of need that any people ever enjoyed.

Request $8549 In Suit for Damages

A damage action seeking a total of $8549.50 was filed today in superior court by John Bulpitt and Zoe N. Bulpitt against Fred Gunther jr., et al. The action is based on an auto accident in Olive last May, in which the Bulpitt car was damaged and Mrs. Bulpitt sustained personal injuries.

SWEDISH SHIP CREW RESCUED BY MAURETANIA

NEW YORK, Nov. 19.—(UP)—

The United States Lines received a message today saying that the crew of the Swedish steamer Ovidia, had been rescued at sea by the Cunard liner Mauretania.

The message was from Captain George Fried of the liner America who also went to the aid of the Ovidia. It was not said whether the Ovidia was still afloat.

Captain Fried's message said: "Ovidia crew now leaving ship in own boats. Being picked up by Mauretania."

Earlier the United States Lines received a message from Fried saying:

"Alongside Ovidia, waiting decision to abandon ship. She desires towing by S. S. Endicott, which has not arrived yet. Ovidia listing badly to starboard. Strong northwest winds. Rough heavy swell. Mauretania also standing by."

Plans for decorating 19 city blocks, forming the center of the city's business district, during the Christmas shopping season, were completed at a general conference meeting held this morning at the offices of the Business Men's association.

More than 40 business men, operating stores in the downtown district, attended the meeting. President W. S. Suddaby, of the association, was in the chair.

Seven o'clock on the evening of December 5 was the time set for the turning on of the thousands of colored lights which, together with Christmas trees and garlands spun across the streets, will make up the main decorative features of the display. In addition to the purely decorative features, the committee in charge of the arrangements, working with Earl B. Ruddy, secretary-manager of the association, has a number of novelty attractions under consideration which will be staged during the holiday shopping season.

Co-operating with the city police department, plans are being prepared to handle the flow of traffic during the shopping season in such a way as to avoid congestion and eliminate accidents.

President Suddaby appointed the following general committees to take charge of the Christmas decorations: Main street, William Friend, Harold Yost, Earl R. Ruddy, W. Dreitzler, J. N. Harding, Paul Schwartz, Adolph Tannenbaum, Cecil M. Featherly and Charles Blackburn; Sycamore, Jack E. Cope, J. F. Burke, Otto Hawley, Fred Blaue, Charles F. Mitchell and Neil Beisel; Broadway, Frank Purinton, H. T. Smith, A. G. Flagg, Jack Wallace, H. Larkin, James W. Beach and Norman Sprowl; West Fourth street, Jabez Hill, Sam Sender, Ray Stauffer, Russell R. Petersen, Hugh Lowe, Walter Swarber, Milton Foster, Bob Fernandez and Kemper Taylor; East Fourth street, Leon Dickey, Carl G. Strock, Sam Hurwitz and Jack Lansdowne.

The trial of M. Duarte, charged with murder, was continuing today in the court of Superior Judge H. G. Ames. The prosecution has completed its side of the case and the defense was presenting its evidence today.

It is anticipated that the case will go to the jury this afternoon for determination of the guilt or innocence of the man who is charged with the death of F. Orocco, a passenger in the car he was driving, and who was killed in a crash. Members of the jury are L. J. Ellis, Nell Winslow, Hall W. Smith, Alice M. Stafford, Frances A. Tedford, Inez W. Yeats, W. E. Storms, Glenn Helms, Belle Greshner, Ethel Chappel, Blanche L. Borchert and Margaret B. Siegert.

Parents Hear Hoover In Radio Speech

Parents and others interested in child welfare throughout Santa Ana today will listen to President Hoover in a radio address at 6 p. m. Mrs. H. M. Neighbour, city president of the Parent-Teacher association, stated today that she had urged parents, through the schools, to listen to the speech, which will be delivered at the White House conference on child health and protection. Locally the broadcast will be heard over KHJ, KFI and KFSD.

USE 6,500,000 RIVETS IN U. S. SKY FORTRESS

At least 6,500,000 rivets are going into the construction of the alarship, Akron, the first of two giant fortresses of the sky that are being built here for the United States Navy.

And an outstanding feature in the driving of these millions of rivets into the duralumin framework of the ship is that it is practically a noiseless operation.

The dirigible Akron, when completed and stood on end, would approximate an 80 story office building. The din that would attend the driving of rivets into the structural steel of an 80-story skyscraper would very likely be the noisiest building operation imaginable, but driving rivets into the skeleton of the Akron is vastly different.

Aluminum alloy riveting is done by a squeezing process. The rivets are squeezed into place by hand instead of pounded with electric or air hammers.

The squeezing device resembles nut crackers, with handles about 18 inches long. The ends of the heat-treated rivets are compressed. One rivet at a time is squeezed and one squeeze to a rivet is sufficient. All of the rivets used in the framework of the Akron are about 1-8 of an inch in diameter.

Her activities in church, club and social life, brought her in contact with hundreds of persons. In addition to church societies and social clubs, she was active in Ethel society, Chapter S of the PEO sisterhood, and other organizations. She was an enthusiastic sportswoman, and last year directed all the women's golf tournaments and plays at Santa Ana Country club.

In his remarks at the service, the Rev. Mr. McFarland quoted a "Morning Prayer" by Nixon Waterman, which was a special favorite of Mrs. Wheeler's, and which seemed to epitomize her ideals and strolling qualities. An affecting feature was the fact that on the day of her passing, Mrs. Wheeler had whispered to her husband, "I have not yet said my little prayer that I say each morning. I am ready to do so now," and quietly quoted the beautiful poem in its entirety.

Music at the services was confined to songs that she had always loved, "Silver Threads Among the Gold," and "What a Friend We Have in Jesus," and were sung by Robert Brown, family friends serving as pall bearers, were Messrs. Lucian Filippin, M. M. Fishback and Dr. C. S. Parker of Orange; Alex Brownridge, J. H. Metzger and W. Verne Whitson of this city. Burial was made in the mausoleum in Fairhaven cemetery, with Smith and Tuthill in charge.

MANY FRIENDS AT FUNERAL OF MRS. WHEELER

Amidst an abundance of beautiful flowers at the First Presbyterian church, final rites for Mrs. John L. Wheeler were conducted Monday afternoon by her pastor, the Rev. O. Scott McFarland, in the presence of a church crowded with friends who mourned with members of her family in their deep loss.

The death of Mrs. Wheeler on November 13, at Loma Linda, came as a shock to her friends, for her condition had not been considered critical or even serious. She had been taking some special treatments sufficiently that her return to her home at 523 South Ross street, had been set for the very day upon which she was called by death.

Born and wedded in Green Bay, Wis., Mrs. Wheeler accompanied her husband and their son, Sheldon C. Wheeler, to California in 1901, and the family home was established in Orange county five years later.

Her activities in church, club and social life, brought her in contact with hundreds of persons. In addition to church societies and social clubs, she was active in Ethel society, Chapter S of the PEO sisterhood, and other organizations. She was an enthusiastic sportswoman, and last year directed all the women's golf tournaments and plays at Santa Ana Country club.

An affecting feature was the fact that on the day of her passing, Mrs. Wheeler had whispered to her husband, "I have not yet said my little prayer that I say each morning. I am ready to do so now," and quietly quoted the beautiful poem in its entirety.

YOUNG HOBOS MAKE FLOWERS AT CREEK CAMP

ORANGE, Nov. 19.—It's cold these nights even for folks sleeping in comfortable homes and huddled under warm woolen blankets but it's colder for hobos, made so by choice or circumstances, whose sleeping quarters are in the "jungle" in the rain-washed bed of the Santiago creek near the Santa Fe tracks.

Yesterday Constable George Bartley went down to the creek to urge those who had lingered several days in the near Orange to move on in their endless journey to Nowhere. Before his orders became effective new drifters arrived and established a few days camp in the spot which the older residents were about to abandon.

Not Merry Life

The hobo's life is often far from a merry one, according to an 18-year-old boy, who declared his name was Sofia and that he had come from Michigan, where his parents had died the year before. Sofia and his companion, one "Whitey," have been engaged in making paper flowers to sell during their sojourn in the Santiago creek.

"Kinda hard weather to make flowers," Sofia said. "Colors run when the paper gets wet. Whitey and I make the flowers and he goes out to sell them. That's where he is now. We're going to move on as soon as he gets back. "Where did I meet Whitey? Oh, up in Riverside a few weeks ago. He taught me to make paper roses. No I don't know about him or his name. We ain't asking folks we meet on the road no questions. They just comes and goes, and we just comes and goes, each one of us in our own business."

"Whitey's a square guy. Once in a while you run across a fellow who'll steal your balloon. But I don't know. Why, that's your canvas and blanket."

Carry Frying Pan

"We don't carry nothing but a frying pan. We can pick up cans any place to cook in. We peddle anything to make a living. Kitchen knives we buy at the 10-cent store."

Whitey and his companion had built a crude shelter from the rain of pieces of sheet iron and a stove of the same material. Nearby was an old man, his washing hung out on the bushes. As soon as the small array of clothing had dried, he too, would move on as Sofia declared he had been doing for the past 10 years.

"Lots of hobos we meet have been on the road that long," the boy declared. "Some of them long or, Language? Well, I guess you could call it that. Now some hobos call a roll of blankets a 'balloon' and some call it a 'bundle.' A fellow what's just started out on the road is a 'gay cat,' a 'stew bum' or a 'spect bum' is the worst kind of hobo."

Sleep on Ground

"Some of the fellows around here don't even have no blankets; they just sleep on the ground. Work? They ain't no work. As soon as it's spring, I'm going north to be a timber beast. What's that? Why that's a fellow that works in the woods. A 'dead one' is a tramp that's quit the road."

According to the attainable in the height of a hobo meal is java and mulligan, which is coffee and stew made from all sorts of odds and ends. A "mush fader" is a hobo who mends umbrellas and a "batter private" is a tramp who begs for his meals from door to door.

"Can't do much mooching," Sofia said, looking off toward the snow-capped mountains and turning his back to the piles of rusty cans which flanked his temporary home on three sides. "They put you in jail."

Today Sofia and Whitey have moved on.

Men Prefer Blue; Women Like Red

MILWAUKEE, Wis., (UP)—Blue is the most attractive color to men, while women show preference for "warm" colors in merchandise and colored advertisements, Ferdinand Aumuller, Milwaukee, told delegates to the 13th annual convention of the International Direct Mail Advertising association.

Aumuller emphasized the difference in color preferences of the sexes in revealing the results of personal tests. He said 44 per cent of all men chose blue as the color they liked best in all fields of purchase including clothes and automobiles. Red was the next preference and purple third.

Red headed the list for women followed by purple, blue, green, orange and yellow.

MIDWAY CITY

MIDWAY CITY, Nov. 19.—Mrs. J. P. Peterson celebrated a birthday anniversary Sunday. An elaborate dinner was an event of the day.

H. E. Scholl, local business man, was in Midway City for a short time one day, the first time he has been out from his home in Long Beach since a recent serious illness. Mr. Scholl is improving slowly.

Wheller Birdwell, who on Friday had an operation performed on one knee, is reported as recovering nicely at St. Joseph's hospital, where he is a patient.

Mr. and Mrs. Whitson and two children motored to Mt. Baldy Saturday, enjoying their first day for the winter in the snow.

Mr. and Mrs. James Sims, of Los Angeles, cousins of Mrs. Robert Hazard, were guests Saturday and Sunday in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Hazard.

Mr. and Mrs. Moritz are entertaining as house guests for two weeks, her parents and brother who are here from Stockton. They are former Orange county residents and contemplate returning here to reside.

Robert Hazard has been confined to his home by illness for several days.

The ways and means committee of the Midway City Woman's club composed of Mrs. B. F. Henderson, Mrs. Robert Hazard and Mrs. Moore announce that on the next regular date for the public card party the evening of November 28, that a "country store" card party is planned.

M. J. P. Hell, who has been confined to his home the past week with a very severe case of oak poisoning, is gradually improving but is only up long enough each day to go to his physician.

Merle Soden, of Santa Ana, was a visitor in the home of his brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Allen Young.

Little Vivian Hart, baby daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Hart, suffered a peculiar accident in her home, the glass pane and frame of a door falling upon her as she passed through the door and crashing down upon her head. The glass broke to splinters, cutting the baby, who is not yet two years of age, badly across the forehead and eye, nose and cheek. It was not necessary that any stitches be taken.

The Rev. Edward Moody, of Garden Grove, occupied the pulpit of the Midway City Nazarene church Sunday.

BOLSA

BOLSA, Nov. 19.—Mrs. E. Cosner, principal of the Bolsa school, was involved in an automobile accident in front of her home Sunday evening. Mrs. Cosner was turning into her driveway when her machine was struck by another car. No one was injured in the accident but Mrs. Cosner's car was damaged.

Mr. and Mrs. John Farnsworth entertained at cards in their new home Saturday evening, entertaining Mr. and Mrs. George Annin of Fullerton and Mr. and Mrs. Jess Howard of Silver Acres as their guests. Mr. and Mrs. Annin won first prize and Mr. and Mrs. Howard second, in guest prizes presented by the hosts. Sandwiches and pumpkin pie were served at the close of the evening by Mrs. Farnsworth.

Mrs. M. Shiffer has returned to her home after several days spent at Compton as the house guest of her son-in-law and daughter. Mr. and Mrs. Buzzard. Mrs. Shiffer's birthday anniversary was celebrated with a dinner party given by Mrs. Buzzard during Mrs. Shiffer's stay in her home.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Gardner and daughters, Mr. Gardner's mother, Mrs. Sarah Gardner, and her sister, Mrs. Doty Burns, motored to Talbert Sunday, visiting in the

STOMACH UPSET

Get at the real cause. That's what thousands of stomach sufferers are doing now. Instead of taking tonics, or trying to patch up a poor digestion, they are attacking the real cause of the ailment—clogged liver and disordered bowels.

Dr. Edwards Olive Tablets help arouse the liver in a soothing, healing way. When the liver and bowels are performing their natural functions, people rarely suffer from indigestion and stomach troubles.

Have you a bad taste, coated tongue, poor appetite, a lazy, don't-care feeling, no ambition or energy, trouble with undigested foods? Try Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel.

Dr. Edwards Olive Tablets are a purely vegetable compound. Know them by their olive color. They do the work without griping, cramps or pain. All druggists, 15c, 30c and 60c.

home of Mrs. Sarah Gardner's son, Al Gardner. Mrs. Burns, who has been spending a week with her sister as she is enroute from her home in Mt. Vernon, Ore., to Texas, left on Wednesday. Mrs. Burns will spend the winter with a daughter and will again visit here as she returns to Oregon in the spring.

Mrs. Ralph Ross and children spent Sunday evening visiting Mrs. Louis Walton.

Mrs. John King, who has been making an extended visit in Oakland, is returning home in a few days.

Harold Bray, former local man, came from Merced Monday, remaining over until Tuesday and visiting in the John Farnsworth, Gus Ward and Louis Walton homes. Mr. Bray had moved a family to San Fernando and then motored here to see after business connected with his local ranch, which he has leased to Japanese, who are putting the 40 acres to strawberries. Mr. Bray reports that his father, who spent considerable time with the family when they resided here, is in poor health. The father is now at the old family home in Canada.

Mrs. Lillian Huston, of Ontario, who has been a house guest for a week past in the J. D. Shutt home, returned Sunday to her home, Mrs. Shutt and Miss Lucille Radford motoring to Ontario to take her home.

Miss Hill and Miss Haas, teachers in the local school, motored to Oceanside Sunday.

Mrs. Earl Gardner and daughter, Miss Margaret Gardner, motored Saturday to Huntington Park where they visited Mrs. Wells and Miss Bernice Wells and in the afternoon Mrs. Gardner and Miss Gardner, accompanied by Miss Wells, attended the Santa Ana junior college-Los Angeles junior college football game.

C. R. Post, who has been confined to his home by illness, is improved and able to be about some.

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Farnsworth and Mrs. Dora Ward attended the public card party at Mirway City Friday evening.

VALUE OF PROPOSED IMPERIAL HIGHWAY FOR SOUTH COAST IS OUTLINED TO BEACH REALTORS

The projected Imperial highway and its importance to the south coast was the subject before the Laguna Beach Realty board Tuesday noon at the White House cafe in that city. Loren D. Howe, secretary of the Hawthorne Chamber of Commerce, was the chief speaker. Four members of the Orange county board of supervisors were present.

William Schumacher, former chairman of the board of supervisors, introduced the speaker, telling of his own interest in the Imperial highway, which he said will start at the ocean and go through Orange county to the Imperial valley.

Howe told of the promotion of the project, which already has won commendation as having made greater headway than any other similar undertaking in Southern California in the 14 months since it was started.

The highway would start at El Segundo and on the right of way to Corona, now determined, no right angle turns would occur. It is the hope of those promoting the Imperial highway that throughout its entire length there will be no right angle turns, and that it will be a high gear road throughout its entire length, eventually to be 100 feet in width and to have, in time, ornamental lights the entire distance.

At Elsinore the Imperial highway would connect with the Ortega highway, now under construction.

Through the Warner ranch the Imperial highway would secure the right of way free, Howe declared. In this region are many historical points of interest. Two roads would lead into the Imperial valley, one Supervisor George Jeffrey told briefly of progress on the Ortega highway. Work now under way will be finished in about three months, he said, after which another $35,000 would be available. This would bring the road to the top of the hill, he said, connecting with a road from Riverside county, which is passable. The road is now graded for a distance of two miles from San Juan Hot Springs, though not finished. The length of the Ortega highway is 13 miles from Capistrano to Hot Springs, five miles from that point to Riverside line, the total length being 31 miles. Connections through will be ready in five months, Jeffrey estimated.

The only business coming before the Realty board was adoption of a letter to be sent to property owners inviting them to become members of the property-owners division of the Realty board. This was drafted by Clyde Mackey.

Many visitors were present at the meeting, among these being Supervisors George Jeffrey, Willard Smith, William Schumacher and Charles H. Chapman; Sumner Crosby, editor of the South Coast News, and George Scherck, editor of the San Clemente Herald; County Clerk J. M. Backs; City Attorney Leslie F. Kimmell, of Laguna Beach; G. B. Dunham, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce; Carson Smith, of Santa Ana; C. H. Bothamly, Walter Greening and Carl Hankey, of Capistrano; Roy W. Peacock presided over the meeting.

PEGLEG SMITH MINE FEATURED IN COURT CASE

A trial in connection with a California gold mine that is reported to be profitably operating in the San Jacinto range of mountains was completed yesterday in the court of Judge James L. Allen in department two of the county superior court, with a judgment for the defendants.

The action was brought by Weaver brothers, a mining machinery organization, against Oscar Brink and others, who are operating the mine, which it is claimed is the lost "Pegleg" Smith mine, and seeks judgment of $944 as the balance alleged to be due on some grinding machinery which was sold to the group operating the mine. The mine operators have filed a cross complaint in the action, according to Attorney Horace Head, a member of the defense staff, asserting that the machinery would not do the work it was supposed to do, and asking for cancellation of the note given as payment of the balance due on the machinery, return of the cash payment of some $300 and damages in the amount of $10,000 for delay and failure of the machinery to function properly.

The mining claim is near the summit of the San Jacinto mountains above Keen camp, which is close to Idyllwild. It was at one time held and worked by an old Santa Ana miner by the name of Penrod. Samples of the ore have been introduced in court during the course of the trial, which started Monday. The gold is said to be free milling gold and it is reported by Head that several gold shipments have been made since Brink and his associates have been working the claim.

The judgment provided for cancellation of the note and an award of $539.25 and costs for the defendants on their cross complaint. Brink's associates include M. E. Simon, A. R. Mott and Carl J. Christensen.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 19.—There's one room in the Senate office building in which masculine legislators have no business. The parlor is the work of five years' urging by senators and female employees who argued that a beauty parlor in the building would save time going downtown.

ARCADE STORE BUILDING WILL BE BUILT HERE

Destined to become one of the outstanding business structures in the downtown section of the city is a two-story arcade store building to be built on the site now occupied by the McFadden market on the east side of North Main street between Fifth and Sixth streets, plans for which have been completed by Milo Berenson, local architect, it was announced today by Ray Goodcell, Santa Ana real estate broker, in charge of the leasing arrangements.

Work on remodeling the market building into an arcade will begin within the next two weeks, and it is expected to have the new structure, including the stores, ready for occupancy some time next January, Goodcell stated. The total cost of remodeling the building, including a setback on the Main street front to conform with the setback line of the Sears-Roebuck and the Horton stores, is estimated to run between $30,000 and $25,000. The arcade will extend clear through from Main street to Bush street, and will contain 23 stores. Already leases have been made to a number of tenants, including several high class shops, inquiries revealed.

In drawing the plans for the building, the architect has copied the Spanish style, with an open balcony front, which design of architecture has been adopted for a number of high class residence structures in Santa Barbara.

The arcade will extend clear through from Main street to Bush street, and will contain 23 stores. Already leases have been made to a number of tenants, including several high class shops, inquiries revealed.

POMONA, Calif.—Dr. C. M. Vance of this city has perfected an airplane which has fishlike fins to increase stability. There are two horizontal flippers under the nose of the ship for fore and aft stability. Vertical fins underneath the upper wing are said to prevent side slips and tail spins.

300 Persons Attend Joint Center Session In Orange

ADVISOR TELLS CONDITIONS ON RUSSIA FARMS

ORANGE, Nov. 16.—Harold Wahlberg, county farm advisor, gave an address before members of the El Modena, Villa Park and West Orange Farm centers of the Orange union high school auditorium last night, telling of his recent trip abroad. The program was in charge of the three presidents of the centers, C. A. Palmer, of Villa Park; W. M. Cummings, of El Modena, and G. C. Bradford, of West Orange.

Harold Dittmar and Charles Reed opened the meeting with selections on the organ. This was followed by songs by the Boys' Glee club of Orange union high school, directed by Percy Green, musical director of the school.

Flaherty Speaks
C. A. Palmer was chairman of the meeting. Roland Flaherty, executive secretary of the Orange County Farm bureau, gave a report of the state convention held at Asilomar last week. Flaherty said in part: "Orange county had the largest delegation at the convention and brought back two of the three cups that were presented at the convention, one for the largest delegation and one for the most miles traveled. We only lacked seven members in the membership drive, which would have given us the third and only other cup given at the convention."

"Twenty-six farm bureau members and their wives attended from Orange county, making a part in the largest state convention ever held of between 400 and 500. W. C. Childers, of Santa Ana, was appointed chairman of the state farm bureau poultry department. Carl Harms, of Orange, secured oranges for the men and orange blossoms for the women from Orange county. Roy Bishop presented a box of real orange blossoms. Orange county secured the convention for next year of the 12 western states farm bureaus."

The Rev. Joseph Reese, of El Modena, gave two solos accompanied by Percy Green.

Making Progress
C. A. Palmer introduced Mr. Wahlberg, who gave an address on "Agricultural Conditions in Russia." Mr. Wahlberg said in part: "The countries in Europe that are co-operating in their agricultural programs are making wonderful progress, and are in great contrast to the poverty stricken countries. Switzerland leads in co-operation with Denmark, Finland and Sweden making high in co-operation. They are banded together for their marketing, buying, education, social and economic conditions. Denmark leads the world in the export of dairy products, a country not as large as San Bernardino county. Originally it was a grain country, changing to poultry and finally to dairying. There is little co-operation in Spain, Italy and northern Africa. Germany is making good headway but has not had time to make much impression yet. I spent two months in Russia studying soil conditions, making a 6500 mile trip. One hundred fifty million people are in Russia, which covers one-sixth of the land area of the world with vast natural resources as yet untouched. North of Moscow is a large wooded section covered with timber hardly touched. Some paper pulp is being shipped out in such quantities that the paper interests are getting alarmed. The middle third of the empire is the bread basket, producing quantities of wheat and in the south is the fruit basket of Russia and the large oil fields.

Many Large Farms
"The production has been down to the minimum during the revolution. It will be a generation or two before the peasants can be educated to use modern machinery. The government has established large farms covering 400,000 acres equipped with modern machinery, with agricultural engineers from abroad directing the work. Schools are equipped for the education of the peasant."

"Irrigation projects and hydro power production are being developed with great manufacturing projects. There are two classes of people in Russia, the workers and the peasants. The workers are very sympathetic to the five-year plan even though they are on a ration basis, but the peasants making up 85 per cent of the population, are not satisfied. I noted the fine singers among the workers. They are ever ready to sing their national songs. They seem to enjoy their music. In the south I was privileged to travel over the old Georgian road made before the time of Christ, through this fruit basket of Russia, with a rainfall of 100 inches, and great oil fields which supply all of Russia with oil, with great quantities shipped to all parts of the world."

"The Soviet government has separated the church from the government. Forty per cent of the church buildings are being used for church services and the rest are being worked over into hospitals, rest homes and museums."

Pictures taken in Russia were put on the screen and explained by the speaker. Three hundred were in attendance at the meeting and it was suggested that a joint meeting be held again in the near future.

WALTHER LEAGUE TO PRESENT PLAYS SOON
ORANGE, Nov. 19.—Miss Elsie Burmann is to be chairman of the social meeting which is to follow the regular monthly business meeting of the Senior Walther league of St. John's Lutheran church Friday evening.

Members of the league will meet at the Walker Memorial hall at 7:30 o'clock. Plans are to be completed soon for several plays which are to be given this winter.

GREEN PARROT POTTERY AND GIFT SHOP, 1227 South Main, adjacent to Palm Gardens. Antiques worthy of monarchs—treasures from ancient China, from frozen Siberia, from buried Aztec cities may be seen at this new pottery place adjacent to Palm Gardens. Many quaint and interesting small pieces of pottery, inexpensive for the gift that is different for somebody's Christmas. Another unique feature of this shop is the maid who announces you at the door; she has been with the Coles thirty years; she might be called a "bird in a gilded cage" but she's only a green parrot who declines to talk before the "Mike."

COCHEMS, THE ARTIST PHOTOGRAPHER, 304 North Sycamore, adjacent to Post Office—The virtue of seeing yourself as others see you depends entirely upon who the "others" are. To see yourself in a Cochems photograph is to see that inner self you want to be reflected from the cardboard. That is art. Any fellow can photograph an object; only the few can photograph a personality. We don't like that pictured grin. Cochems catches that elusive light on the face called "Thinking a smile."

Those large portraits he's making for so many of your friends just now would make a happy Christmas gift for your dear ones. These are attractively displayed in the studio window.

DORA SHEFFER BRIDE OF L. A. MAN ON DEC. 2

ORANGE, Nov. 19.—Announcement of the coming marriage of Miss Mary Dora Sheffer, attractive daughter of Mrs. Anna Sheffer, of Arthur Neff, of Kansas City, Kas., was made last night. The wedding is to take place December 2.

Autumn leaves in vivid scarlet, brilliant yellow and the many soft tones of russet were used in carrying out the decorations for the home and for the tables when the refreshment course was served at the bridge tables after the game. Tallies were in the same colors and the announcement of the coming wedding was made with a message written on an autumn leaf at the place of each guest.

When scores were added it was found that Miss Mabel Miller, of Santa Ana, had made high score and Miss Hope Davis was co-soled. Both received lovely prizes. Miss Sheffer was graduated from Stanford university in 1927 and is a bacteriologist at the Orange county hospital. Mr. Neff is a senior in a medical college in Los Angeles. He is a graduate of the University of Nebraska.

Those present were Mrs. Fred Swazey, Mrs. Rose Stull, Miss Mary Lowry, Mrs. Stanford Cole, Miss Mabel Miller, Miss Vena Jones, Miss Mary Beasley, Miss Marion Stull, Mrs. Herbert Eberle, Dr. Elizabeth Toek, Mrs. John Stull of Bell, Mrs. Cecil Chambers of Fullerton, Mrs. Walter Righter of Glendale, the honoree, Miss Mary Dora Sheffer, and her mother, Mrs. Anna Sheffer.

VILLA PARK
VILLA PARK, Nov. 19.—A. S. Adams was a recent guest of his daughter, Mrs. John Holditch, at Palm Springs.

Edison Thacker, who is interested in a new copper mine at Camp Verde, Ariz., is a guest in the home of Mr. and Mrs. LeRoy Bell. LeRoy Bell and Gilbert, H. D. Nichols, Lawrence and Winston. Mr. Slater and LeRoy Warren and Jimmie attended the father and son banquet Friday evening at the First Presbyterian church in Orange.

Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Songer and Mr. and Mrs. J. Zedder, of Los Angeles and C. S. Songer, of Santa Fe Springs, were Sunday dinner guests in the N. Y. Raney home. Mr. and Mrs. Le Roy Warren and sons attended a football game in Los Angeles Saturday afternoon.

REPORTS GIVEN AT SESSION OF FRATERNAL UNIT
ORANGE, Nov. 19.—Miss Margaret French, of Los Angeles, department inspector of the Daughters of Union Veterans, was the guest of honor at a dinner given by members of the organization at the Smith and Grote hall last night. Miss French was accompanied by her mother, Mrs. Ella French, and Mrs. Erma Chaplane, of Oakland. Mrs. Belle Condon presided and is spending two weeks in Southern California visiting the tents in this vicinity. Dinner was served at 6 o'clock with decorations carrying out a seasonal motif.

A report was made of the well-fare work done by the members of the tent when it was shown that $118.50 had been expended for this purpose during the past year.

An announcement was made that Mrs. Della Bishop would entertain the members living at the Memorial home at Sawtelle on Thanksgiving day. A dinner will be served at noon and members of the local tent are privileged to visit with the guests in the afternoon.

The last meeting of the Sew and Sell club, which is an auxiliary organization of the tent, will be held at the home of Mrs. C. O. Benson, 310 East Walnut street, November 21. This is the last meeting of the club before the bazaar December 6, in the Hurwitz building.

COSTA MESA
COSTA MESA, Nov. 19.—The Rev. A. F. Hasse gave a talk to the Boy Scouts at their scout cabin on scout programs and the value of discipline.

Lloyd Willcutt, scout master, announces the patrol leaders for this year as follows: Hugh Davis, Emil Myrehn Jr., Frank Chapman and Leonard Collins.

F. A. Daley, scout committee, was a visitor. Scouts present included Floyd Lewis, Robert Carter, Royal Wellington, Howard Hill, Chester Hanson, Ralph Myrehn, Robert Allen, Donald Stevens, Oscar and Roscoe Kito, Grant Howell, and Marcus and John Daley.

The quality meat market, owned by Mr. Douglas and located in the Grand Central market in Santa Ana, has opened a branch market in the building formerly known as the Ross building. Forest St. Clair is manager of the market. He was in charge of one of the first meat markets in Costa Mesa several years ago.

Librarian Gives Address At Olive P.T. A. Gathering

ORANGE, Nov. 19.—The Olive P.T. A. met at the school yesterday at 2:30 o'clock in the primary room. Miss Lorraine Blanton was in charge of the program, introducing the speaker, Mrs. Mable Faulkner, librarian at Orange, who gave an interesting talk on "Children's Books" and also on books of fiction and non-fiction for adults.

Three pupils from the first and second grades, Barbara McClintock, Paul Hager and Dick Rietow, sang. The hostesses for the day were the teachers, the Misses Lorraine Blanton and Janey Van De Veer and Mrs. Clara Handley. The next meeting will be a "Child Welfare" gathering, with Mrs. Walter Fairbairn as the speaker.

ORANGE PERSONALS

ORANGE, Nov. 19.—Clyde A. Owings, recently from Illinois and brother of Floyd Owings, has entered business at the Vitalizing shoe store on South Glassell street. Mr. Owings and family are located at 434 Marietta place.

Choir practice at the Christian church has been changed from Thursday evening to Friday evening of this week. Parts for the Christmas cantata will be assigned at that time.

Mrs. D. E. Claypool, 474 North Glassell street, entertained Circle No. 3 of the Ladies' Aid of the Methodist church yesterday. Fifteen were in attendance with a pot luck dinner served at the noon hour. The hostess furnished a surprise in the serving of pie made from the berries that she had gathered and canned. A number worked at quilting and other were engaged in work for the bazaar. Mrs. Claypool will entertain at the December meeting of the circle.

T. C. McBride, East Washington avenue, spent yesterday in San Diego with his daughter, Mrs. H. L. Bleeker.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Schmidt spent Sunday at Alhambra, accompanying Mr. Schmidt's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Schmidt, who moved to Alhambra at this time. The John Schmidts were residents of Santa Ana and Mr. Schmidt will have charge of the Alpha Beta store in the former city.

GIVE PROGRAM AT SESSION OF WOMAN'S CLUB

ORANGE, Nov. 19.—"Green Pastures," the Pulitzer prize play, was read Monday at the meeting of the Orange Women's club by Miss Edna Stewart.

Miss Stewart was introduced by Mrs. C. C. Bonebrake, chairman of the program committee and before the reading Mrs. A. Haven Smith was presented in three solos with Mrs. Jess Coe as her accompanist. Mrs. Smith sang as one of her numbers, "Yellow Dusk," written by LiPo, a Chinese poet of the eighth century and as another "The Birthday" by Cowen. The other solo was written by Miss Beatrice Thatcher of Los Angeles.

In presenting "Green Pastures," Miss Stewart gave the necessary explanations of the action of the play and of the stage settings. The play opens with a Negro Sunday school teacher telling his children of the creation and of "Old Man Adam and his children."

New members of the club introduced included Mrs. Fred Ray, Mrs. J. L. McGinness, Mrs. H. E. Russell and Mrs. Carrie E. Hardy. It was announced that Mrs. Leon Des Larzes, Mrs. H. O. Ehlen, Mrs. W. O. Higgins and Mrs. Scott Elmer were to attend the convention to be held at Bravely today.

A report of the Toastmaster section's last meeting was given by Mrs. B. D. Stanley, who told of an interesting selection of the 12 American women who were believed to be best in their particular lines of endeavor.

Plans for Christmas activities included those for the annual entertainment for men and women at the county hospital and presents for the guests. A Christmas tree is needed for the event, it was said.

Announcement was made of the last of the series of public card parties which is to be held November 25 at the clubhouse, when the grand prize is to be awarded. Business yesterday were Mrs. L. W. Hemphill and Mrs. John Campbell.

Walnut Plant Is Closed After 1100 Tons Shipped East

ORANGE, Nov. 19.—The Rosenberg walnut house on the Santa Fe tracks closed down yesterday after having handled 1100 tons of walnuts this season. Joe Handelman, member of the firm, stated yesterday that the house expected to pack fully double the amount packed this year, during the fall of 1931.

More acreage is to be signed up the first of the year, he said. The Rosenberg company built over its packing house here this spring, adding new equipment and enlarging the capacity of the plant. Final checks were paid yesterday to the 35 employees who have been working since the first of October.

Program Enjoyed By Church Circle Tuesday Afternoon

ORANGE, Nov. 19.—Circle No. 2 of the Ladies' Aid of the Methodist church met in the church parlor at 2:30 o'clock. Forty were in attendance. Mrs. Hattie Sealford gave a reading and an encore. Mrs. B. F. Scharr sang "The Japanese Love Song" and "Mighty Lak a Rose." Thomas Carl Sutton, dressed in costume, gave "Cowboy" and "An Egg" in readings and sang "Yankee Doodle Boy" accompanied by his mother, Mrs. Carl Sutton.

Games were enjoyed during the afternoon. Mrs. Clara Whiteman presided for the program. A silver tea was served by Mrs. J. D. Stalker, Mrs. Young and Miss Lella Fernald.

FULLER PARK

Mr. and Mrs. G. Edmiston and daughter, Betty, were dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. H. Hatfield in San Dimas Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. T. B. Guthrie were all day guests of Mr. and Mrs. Robert M. Guthrie in Clearwater Saturday. Mr. and Mrs. Carl Cox had as all day guests Sunday, Mr. and Mrs. J. Riggs and Mr. and Mrs. Ed Biedebach, all of Pasadena.

$349 RECEIVED IN FUND DRIVE OF RED CROSS

ORANGE, Nov. 19.—While the Red Cross campaign was in progress here but four days up to yesterday afternoon the sum of $349 had been received by workers who represented Chapter 8 of the P. E. O., the Women's club, the American Legion auxiliary, the Eastern Star and the Women's Relief corps. The campaign closes officially on Thanksgiving day.

Mrs. Robert B. Johnson has been in general charge of the drive. Mrs. Johnson states that the Red Cross has placed a number of conveniences at the disposal of those who have illness in their families. These articles are to be loaned for short periods and may be obtained at the Child Welfare center at the city hall. Ice bags, hot water bags, rubber sheeting and many other supplies needed in the sick room are included in the list.

In a letter from the Red Cross headquarters yesterday, officials of the organization stated that it was anticipated that a greater demand on Red Cross funds would be made this year of any previous year since the war.

The supplies are for the use of residents of this district, which includes El Modena, Villa Park, Olive and Orange and the surrounding territory.

NEWS OF THE SCHOOLS

Frances Willard

American Education Week
Many parents and friends of Willard students took advantage of the invitation issued to visit school during American Education week. This afforded parents and teachers an opportunity to become better acquainted and the visitors found the daily class-room work interesting. A hearty welcome was extended to them to come at any time convenient to them.

Evening P.-T. A. Meet
Last Monday marked the first evening P.-T. A. meeting at the Willard school. Such evenings are considered "Fathers' night" as it is seldom that the fathers have the opportunity to attend the regular afternoon meetings. Lyle Anderson acted as chairman of the program.

Dr. Margaret Baker, president of the organization, called the meeting to order. Due to the crowded conditions at the Willard school the meeting was held at the Y. W. C. A. building. Principal Lyle Mitchell gave a short welcome address in which he told some of the aims of the organization and the school. The boys' chorus, led by Miss Esther Jean Davis, sang two selections which were greatly appreciated.

Dr. Percy R. Davis, assistant superintendent of schools, gave an interesting talk on the subject, "What May the School Expect of the Parent?" Following this, the Rev. Mr. Harry Owings talked on "What May the Child Expect of the Parent?"

After the program a social hour was enjoyed at which time all those present had a chance to become acquainted. Refreshments were served.

Mother-Daughter Banquet

The Every Girls' club has announced the date for this year's Mothers' and Daughters' banquet for Friday evening, December 5. Already the officers and various committees are working on plans for this occasion which promises to be one of the outstanding events of the year.

More definite plans will be given next week, but it is hoped that all the girls and their mothers will save the date of December 5 for the jolliest get-together of the year in the Every Girls' club. Mrs. Edith Thatcher, vice-principal and dean of girls, is sponsor of the activities of the club and is helping the officers in organizing their committees in preparation for the banquet.

Roosevelt School

The children of the low fourth grade are contributing the school news this week.

Education Week Mottos

Here are some good mottos that we have been copying for Education week:

"There are no days of special patriotism. There are no days when you should be more patriotic than on other days, and I ask you to wear every day in your heart, our flag of the Union."

"How about your spare time? Do you waste it on nothing in particular, or invest it in worth while activities?"

"A knowledge of English is the gateway to American life, American citizenship, American ideals."

Evelyn Gardner and Eupha Neer.

Our New Street

Men are putting in new lamp posts on First street in front of Roosevelt school. It is very interesting to watch them work. They are also making the street wider. They have taken about four feet of our lawn. They made so much noise by Miss Camblin's window that we had to go to the kindergarten to finish our reading. The street will look very nice when it is finished.

Bobby Webb.

Fun With Posters

In Miss Knudson's room we have been coloring our posters. My but they are pretty! We are coloring them all different colors.

Eugene Cloyes.

Adding Machines

The third grade in Miss Puhnam's room is having an interesting time making adding and subtracting machines. The pupils have made them from paper and card board. A boy in this grade has made one from wood about a foot long, and is going to make a larger one.

Donald Wiedeman.

Visiting Day

Next Friday is visiting day. We want all the parents possible to come. The teachers are always glad to see visitors. All of the schools are glad to have visitors, so please remember to come.

Carol Jeanne McCollom.

Posters

In Miss Knudson's room the low 6 pupils are making posters. Some posters are going to be about Education week. There are going to be posters about leisure time.

David Brown.

Clay

In Miss Knudson's room, the higher grades have been molding clay into different articles. Here are a few of them: vases, platters, cups, bowls, and candle holders.

Alice Clare McFarland and Maybelle Springmeyer.

Slides

In Miss Camblin's and Miss Hoy's classes I saw some slides on the picture machine. I saw some sea urchins, fish, and a picture of Monterey bay. The picture of Monterey bay was the prettiest of all.

Paul Kimball.

A Story Book

The boys and girls in the low fourth grade are writing stories of things they saw. I cannot tell you the names of all the stories because there are too many. The following children wrote the best stories: Bobby Webb, "A Trip in an Airplane"; David Brown, "A Fast Ride"; Freida May Song, "A Tall Fairy"; Alice Clare McFarland, "A Little Brownie"; Stanton Converse, "A Secret Box"; Bobbie Stevens, "A Nice Garden"; Henry Corneil, "A Jolly Party"; Annie Romo, "A Dinner For Mother"; Vernon Ashby, "A Secret Cave"; Allan Flagg, "A Good Motion Picture"; Paul Kimball, "What the Moon Saw Halloween"; Fern Huffman, "A Mother Bear and Her Two Cubs"; Donald Wiedeman, "A Thrilling Story I Once Read."

And the story book is going to have a green cover, too.

Bobbie Stevens.

A Browning Table

We have a table in Miss Clingan's room. Miss Clingan is going to put adding machines on the table. She said, "Who ever gets through first may work with adding machines."

Freida Song.

Armistice Day

We are all glad that the war is over. There were many men who lost their lives. Many of the men are not well yet from the effects of the war. Many men were gassed. It was awful how the men were killed.

DOG'S FALSE TEETH

SYDNEY, Australia—Charlie, pet dog of Mrs. Jane Fisher, was injured in an auto accident, and his jaw was broken. The dog's teeth were also lost. So Mrs. Fisher called in a medical and dental surgeon and the two devised a false plate for the dog. Charlie had a hard time getting used to the false teeth, but he now uses them nearly as well as his old ones.

Late News From Orange County Communities

WATER RIGHTS DISCUSSED AT LIONS SESSION

COSTA MESA, Nov. 19.—"Subterranean Water Rights" was the topic chosen for a talk by D. G. Wetlin at the noon luncheon of the Lions' club Tuesday.

The ever increasing demands on the water supply behooves each citizen to conserve water in every possible way, Wetlin said. He denounced the use of artesian water by the gun clubs, used for pleasure alone, when there is a need for agricultural purposes.

Dr. C. G. Huston, president, and W. W. Middleton, secretary of the local Lions, attended the county council held in Orange Monday night and Mr. Middleton gave a report of the meeting.

C. B. Diehl has been in charge of the programs for the past two months. Fenton Chaplin is in charge of the program for next week and announces Dr. H. Q. Willis as speaker. Dr. Willis will contrast the medical practice of the sixteenth century with today.

The Rev. A. F. Hasse invited the Lions' club members to church next Sunday evening. The sermon topic will be "Trade at Home."

Lloyd Rogers was called upon to tell of the activities of the Alhambra Lions club and the Foot-hill council, of which he is a member.

Visitors were the speaker, D. G. Wetlin, Lloyd Rogers, of Alhambra, a cousin of Dr. Huston; C. S. Crookshank, of Santa Ana; E. T. Fair and O. Gunning Butler, of Newport Beach; Dr. Gunning Butler, M. B. McBride, of Long Beach; M. Knesel, P. E. Russell and Dr. W. A. Smith, of Costa Mesa.

Pageant Planned By Sunday School And Woman's Club

MIDWAY CITY, Nov. 19.—A Christmas pageant, "The Lighted Highway," has been chosen for presentation at the community Christmas program which is to be given jointly by the Nazarene Sunday school and the Midway City Woman's club, by the committee chairmen of each organization, Mrs. C. R. Hart for the Sunday school and Mrs. Charles A. Whittett for the club.

The pageant will be presented by young people and children of the community and will be given at the club house on a date yet to be announced.

Rehearsals of the pageant are to begin the first of December.

FOREIGN BORN DINNER GUESTS IN BEACH CITY

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Nov. 19.—Huntington Beach paid tribute to a group of 22 members of the naturalization class of the adult educational department of the high school at a banquet at the city hall Tuesday night. The affair was under the auspices of the Americanization committee of the American Legion and the auxiliary to the Legion. Mrs. Florence Summers, teacher of the class, presided at the program introducing the members of her class and the speakers, among whom was the Holland consul, Mr. Hartog, stationed at Los Angeles.

The class members expect to apply at an early date for right to become American citizens. The meeting was opened by Herb Gray, Legion commander, who introduced Mrs. Summers, who thanked the high school board for making the work possible. She had a class of 115 in immigrant education, a class in mother and baby clinics and other classes among the foreign born. After a short, but very entertaining talk on her work, which is carried on at Talbot and Westminster, Mrs. Summers introduced Mrs. L. H. Henningsdorf, president of the auxiliary, and L. H. Henningsdorf, chairman of the Legion Americanization committee.

Mayor Bowen gave a talk, welcoming the class as mayor and as a member of the American Legion. Consul Hartog followed with a short address, expressing regret at losing his fellow countrymen, but congratulating them on becoming American citizens. Other speakers were Ted Craig, assemblyman from Brea; Judge Ames, of the superior court at Santa Ana; Supt. M. G. Jones, of the high school; Art Grable and E. H. Bradbury, members of the school board; Councilmen Chris King and E. B. Stevens.

Mrs. Ann Chapline, past state president of the Legion auxiliary, who is a resident of Orange, discussed the work the auxiliary is doing for disabled war veterans and their families. She introduced Mrs. L. R. Rudenour, president of the P.-T. A., and thanked the P.-T. A. for its work in child welfare.

Principal Monroe, of the Westminster schools, and Mrs. Kelsey, past president of the county P.-T. A., were the out of town speakers.

The auxiliary served a banquet to more than 150 guests. Commander Herb Gray of the Legion presented the candidates for citizenship with small American flags.

Members of the class were Mr. and Mrs. S. Siracusa, Italy; and Mrs. Alex McAdams, Scotland.

HARBOR GROUP PRESENT SHOW FRIDAY NIGHT

COSTA MESA, Nov. 19.—Preparations for the vaudeville show which will be given as a benefit for the beautification project of Costa Mesa have been completed and the affair will be staged at 7:30 p. m. Friday, in the Costa Mesa grammar school. Although plans were made to stage the show in the new high school auditorium or gymnasium, they were changed when it became apparent that neither room would be finished in time for the occasion.

The entire harbor community is taking part in the show, which will provide funds for carrying on the project of beautifying the harbor boulevard from the outskirts of Costa Mesa down to the Archies. Poppies which bordered the highway for more than two miles during last spring will be replanted and other improvements made with the funds secured.

Among those taking part in the affair are the Harbor Concert orchestra, members of which number 19, and are drawn from Costa Mesa, Balboa, Balboa Island, Corona Del Mar and Newport. The orchestra is directed by Roy Udike. Members are as follows: Violins, A. J. Garfield, George Sherry, Charles Way, Bill Williams, Simon Plas; piano, Mrs. A. J. Garfield; flute, R. S. Briggs; cornets, Jule Goepfer, J. Plas sr., Happy Smalley; trombones, J. Johnston, Roy Turner, Bob Wellington; cello, W. Berestford Fox; trap drums, Bud Baker; clarinet, Theo. Robins, Hugh McMillan jr.; contra basso, Emil Goepfer.

Committees include W. Carl Spencer, chairman of finance; Mrs. Florence Summers, organizing director; Mrs. J. F. Webster, drama and dances; advertising, Mrs. W. W. Caruthers; program, B. Fenton Chaplin; tickets, Mrs. C. G. Huston; makeup, Mrs. Fred Gregory; decorations and stage, Mrs. J. O. Tallman; seating and ushers, Miss Sarah Conant; orchestra, Roy Udike; floral gifts, Fred Opp; mailing of programs, Mrs. A. P. Nelson; publicity, Mrs. Leahy; technician, V. Tripp.

Officers Elected By Yorba Linda's Center on Friday

YORBA LINDA, Nov. 19.—Another year of farm center activity is drawing to a close and on November 21 officers will be elected for 1931.

O. E. Steward, of Anaheim, director of the Metropolitan Water district, will talk, George T. Kellogg, president, announces. A dinner will be served at 6:30 o'clock. B. M. Jurkovich, Jugo Slavia; Hollanders, George Keating, Mr. and Mrs. Otto Folkerts, Dave Cousyn, Jake Cousyn, Mr. and Mrs. J. Schenk, Pete Tekstra, Donald Swister, Charley De Boer, Scheeg Haiman, Pete Haiman, Peter De Rast, Martin De Hoog, Joe De Hoog, Mr. and Mrs. Leonard De Hoog. There were two Japanese who took the course and completed it satisfactorily, but because of being natives of Japan, they are not eligible for citizenship. Mrs. Summers praised them for the help they have been to her in her work. The Japanese class members were Kenso Inouye and Bob Shinto.

The municipal orchestra under the direction of James E. Son played during the banquet hour and at intervals during the evening.

Few Seeking Employment In Fullerton

FULLERTON, Nov. 19.—That few persons are seeking employment in this bureau which has been opened by the Fullerton Chamber of Commerce at its offices in the California hotel was the report of Harry May, secretary of the local chamber, at the city council meeting last night. He stated that more enrollments are expected when the nature of the bureau becomes better known. As soon as work on the second unit of the city water expansion program is started, the unemployment situation is expected to be relieved, it was pointed out by councilmen, as many men will be employed in the project.

FINISH PLACENTIA STREET WORK SOON

PLACENTIA, Nov. 19.—Street Superintendent Barnes reported at the Placentia city council meeting Monday evening that 10 days work had been put in on the streets and alleys and that four blocks in the Archies have been graded, gravelled and oiled, and the strip between the city limits on Santa Fe and the county paving has been completed, and it was voted to send the bill to the supervisors.

City Engineer George Bates reported that according to the subdivision map, the city has a 30-foot roadway on Melrose between Primrose and Orange Grove, but advised against opening the street to traffic.

The second reading of the street improvement ordinance was given and hearing of protest against the bonds will be held December 1. The sidewalk will be laid during the Christmas vacation and includes about 800 feet from Chapman avenue to the school sidewalk and one block along the south side of Chapman.

All trustees were present at the meeting and A. Ipsen acted as clerk in the absence of Mrs. Cline.

Miss Alma Hawks Reveals Wedding

LA HABRA, Nov. 19.—Miss Alma Hawks resigned as president at the regular meeting of the Junior auxiliary of the Woman's Improvement club held at the home of the president, Miss Alma Hawks, last night.

The resignation from the young hostesses was accepted with regrets, but with a great deal of surprise when Miss Hawks announced that she was Mrs. Donald Simmons and that her marriage occurred August 13. The announcement of the wedding was made at this time as the bridegroom is expected to arrive soon from Coalinga and the young couple will establish their home in La Habra or Whittier.

Mrs. Simmons, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Hawks, of North Cypress avenue, stated that it had been an easy matter to keep her marriage secret while her husband was transferred to the clerk at the R. L. Monasco store and formerly attended Fullerton high school. Her husband is a native of Utah and has made his home in Whittier for the past two years.

Bridge Enjoyed By Social Section

GARDEN GROVE, Nov. 19.—Eight tables were arranged for bridge at the card party sponsored by the social section of the Woman's Civic club at the club-house Tuesday afternoon.

First prize was awarded to Mrs. Thompson, of Los Alamitos, second prize went to Mrs. Dorothy Thornburg, of Long Beach, and Mrs. P. N. Larson was consoling.

Mrs. A. C. Robbins and Mrs. A. J. Woodworth were hostesses and served refreshments.

WARNERS OF ICE

WASHINGTON — Joe, the one great enemy of airplane pilots, will make its presence known to pilots through an instrument devised by H. B. Hendrickson of the aeronautics section of the U. 100-FOOT ROAD IS OPPOSED BY LAND OWNERS

FULLERTON, Nov. 19.—Progress on the plans for the widening of North Spadra road was reported to the Fullerton city council last night by City Engineer C. M. Thorpe, who stated that surveys and descriptions of the district to be improved are being prepared. Deeds which will be signed by all property owners granting property needed in the widening are being prepared by the city attorney. Thorpe reported. The next step in the project will be the signing of deeds by property owners, in which the city will have the assistance of the chamber of commerce.

Thorpe reported that no meeting had been held with the state officials regarding the 100-foot right of way that the state had asked north of the Pacific Electric bridge as a qualification of the state aid. It has been pointed out by adjacent property owners that since no other sections of the state highway have the 100-foot right-of-way provision, the reservation would be an injustice to property owners in this territory. It was also pointed out that the 100 foot right-of-way in some sections would project into the barranca running parallel to the highway.

Bids for a one and one half ton truck for city use, a hydraulic hoist to be installed on truck and a light coupe were opened at the meeting of the board. The council was to meet in special session at noon today to award a contract for the purchase of this city equipment.

A request for a narrow strip of land on the north side of West Walnut street was made by the Santa Fe Land Improvement company due to the fact that a building is being constructed at this location and the extra strip of land was needed. The request was granted with the provision that the Santa Fe company deed to the city the same amount of land on the south side of the street.

Confirmation of the assessment roll for assessment district No. 146 was given by the board following a report of the completion of the work of sewer and water improvement in that district.

Calling attention to a $300 balance in the summer playground fund from the past season, the playground committee made its annual report to the board, itemizing expenses incidental to carrying on the work of the summer playground. Requests from citizens on South Arcadia avenue to have an open water ditch in that territory replaced by a closed pipe line were made to the council. It was suggested that since the Anaheim Union Water company has offered to pay one third of the expense of the replacement, that the city and the adjacent property owners share the remainder of the expense. The total cost of the project will amount to approximately $1300, it was reported. The matter was referred to the street committee and the city engineer who will make a report of costs to the council.

City Engineer C. M. Thorpe stated that the project of opening El-lis Place into N. Spadra road is under way with the portion of the street adjacent to Spadra road already paved. The remainder of the work will be completed in conjunction with the widening North Spadra road.

Gym Class For Women Is Active

SEAL BEACH, Nov. 19.—The women's gymnasium class of this city met in regular session this week with a good attendance. The gymnasium class was organized here in January, 1926, and met regularly on the beach. Since the completion of the new city hall, however, meetings have been held in the auditorium, and the class is now attended by approximately a dozen women each week. Although the class originally was organized by the Woman's club of Seal Beach, it is open to all of the women of the community.

Library Showing Balboa Paintings

PLACENTIA, Nov. 19.—An exhibit of pictures by G. A. Magnusson, Balboa artist, is at the Placentia library this week and will remain for 10 days.

There are 30 pictures in the collection. Subjects of the pictures are animal life, still life, marines, desert scenes, landscapes and character studies.

The huge painting of the Capistrano mission hung at the end of the library and familiar to all patrons is a work of this artist, as are several smaller ones belonging to the library.

WOMAN'S CLUB PRESENTS SKIT NEXT TUESDAY

SEAL BEACH, Nov. 19.—A skit portraying a farm picnic at Pumpkin Center in the early Seventies will be featured on the program to be presented by the Woman's club, following a covered dish luncheon, next Tuesday noon at the city hall. A radio system of a unique variety will broadcast the songs of long ago and other novel contributions to the program will be acrobatic stunts, tight rope walking, Irish washer-woman's dance and various other old-time performances.

Hostesses for the day are Mrs. Mary Loftus, Mrs. Mary J. Washburn, and Mrs. Ruby Porter. All members of the club are urged to attend.

The tree-planting campaign which is being sponsored by the Woman's club, and which is under the direction of Mrs. Mary J. Washburn, is reported by the chairman to be making excellent progress. Already more than 30 people have agreed to plant trees and shrubs in the city, and a public dedication is scheduled to close the campaign in January, with heads of civic organizations and churches on the dedicating committee.

COUNCIL CONSIDERS STORM DRAIN PLANS

FULLERTON, Nov. 19.—Possible construction of a storm drain on West Chapman avenue to catch water on North Spadra road and to carry it west to the barranca west of Malden avenue, was being considered today following a discussion of the project by members of the Fullerton city council last night.

City Engineer C. M. Thorpe favored a drainage pipe from Princeton avenue in the east portion of the city with catchment openings at various points in the line to relieve high waters in times of floods. Although no definite decision was reached by the council, it was pointed out that the drainage system should be constructed prior to the widening of North Spadra road, although no definite plan was suggested.

The matter was referred to the city engineer for a later report to the board.

Effect Of Social Environment Topic Of P.-T. A. Tuesday

SEAL BEACH, Nov. 19.—"The Effect of Social Environment on Our Children" was the topic of the P.-T. A. Reading club yesterday afternoon in the kindergarten room of the elementary school. The discussion was led by Mrs. Jessie Scott and others contributing to the afternoon's discussion were Mesdames Ruth Meissen, J. L. Holland, Myrtle Wheat, J. A. Martin, May Borns and Mary J. Washburn.

Mrs. A. J. Johnson, who has been attending a course of instruction for P.-T. A. members at the evening school at the Polytechnic high school in Long Beach, gave an interesting talk on her work there, pointing out that there is room in the class for more students.

COUNCIL GETS SIX LA HABRA GARBAGE BIDS

LA HABRA, Nov. 19.—Bids on garbage disposal for the city of La Habra were opened at the meeting of city councilmen last night.

Six bidders submitted figures ranging from $250 per month to $60 per month. The lowest bid was submitted by W. Paddeon, of Artesia, for the sum of $60. This low bid was said to have been made possible as the owner has a hog ranch near Artesia and was very much interested in securing the feed for his hogs. The contract would call for the disposal of garbage three times per week and the disposal of tin cans once each week, the same as the present schedule. The bids were turned over to the health and sanitation committee for further investigation. The committee is composed of H. A. Randall, chairman, and Albert Thurnher.

The other five bidders were, S. Sarcasian, $250 per month; Mrs. Irwin Stewart, $100 per month; Dugan Disposal company of Alhambra, $100 per month; Jones Brothers, of Buena Park, $80 per month.

Three bids were offered on insurance for the city vehicles and these were opened, read and turned over to Councilmen H. A. Robinson and John Knudson, who will make a report at the next meeting of the council. The bids were offered by: O. T. Stephens, $395.70; H. O. Price, $275.65. The insurance will cover personal and property damage for $50,000 to $100,000 for each vehicle.

A communication was read from the fire committee telling of tests of the 1100 foot of fire hose for the new fire engine. Recommendation was made that the hose be accepted. An invitation from the Long Beach Chamber of Commerce was accepted for the Christmas pageant December 5 at Long Beach.

Can You Tell Scotch From English?

Can you tell the difference between an Englishman and a Scotchman just by listening to his voice over the radio? Most folks would bet they could.

But tomorrow night KREG will present a singer from across the Atlantic who announced that "I will defy anyone to tell which of the two countries I come from."

The artist is Jack Hastie and he will be on the air from 7:15 to 7:30 p. m. tomorrow. Tune in and see if you can tell his nationality.

The minimum price of an airplane capable of crossing the Atlantic is about $13,000. To cross the Pacific ocean it would be necessary to have a plane costing about $60,000 or more.

CLOVERLEAF 4 TO BROADCAST KREG PROGRAM

The Cloverleaf Four, male quartet which has become well known through its broadcasts over KGER, will be heard tonight over the Santa Ana radio station, KREG. This group of harmony makers is scheduled to entertain from 7 to 7:15 p. m.

Mrs. Taylor Johnston, soprano; W. G. Axworthy, cellist; E. W. Buck's Moose orchestra, and a program of late phonograph records sponsored by the Diamond Booteries, will be among other highlights of the program.

Mrs. Johnston will sing from 7:15 to 7:30 p. m. Axworthy will broadcast from 7:30 to 8 p. m. Buck's orchestra will play from 8 to 10 p. m. and the Diamond Booteries program will be on the air from 8 to 9 p. m. From 9 to 10 p. m., the "Shoppers' Guide," with music, will be on the air and late news dispatches will be read from 6:45 to 7 p. m.

SMELTZER

SMELTZER, Nov. 19.—Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Fyle, who form frequent house parties to their mountain cabin at Lake Arrowhead during the winter months, spent last week end at their cabin, motoring up on Friday and returning Sunday, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Carl Snyder, of Buena Park. Snow ranging from eight to twelve inches was found at Arrowhead by the party, who succeeded in reaching the cabin without stopping to put on chains.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Hurst, of Los Angeles, were entertained over the week end in the home of Mrs. Hurst's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Bateman and Saturday evening was spent by the two couples in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Applebury.

Sunday evening, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Applebury were hosts at dinner to Mr. Applebury's parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Applebury and his brother, Clarence Allen Applebury.

Mr. and Mrs. B. L. White, who have been house guests of Mr. and Mrs. William Phillips, left Monday for their home in Los Angeles.

Experiments have proven that wireless waves can be heard in a mine 3000 feet below the surface of the ground, and to considerable depth in water.

BIGGER

THE NEW CHEVROLET SIX HAS MANY IMPROVEMENTS

The introduction of the new Chevrolet Six marks the most impressive forward step in Chevrolet's twenty-year record of constant progress and improvement.

For this Bigger and Better Six offers new beauty of line and color, new luxury, new completeness and new quality—yet it sells at lower prices!

In every curve and sweep of Chevrolet's modern lines—in every detail of its smart new Fisher bodies, you will see the fine hand of the master designer and the skillful craftsman. And the more closely you inspect it, the more deeply impressed you will be.

The improvements in the new Chevrolet Six begin at the smart new chrome-plated headlamps and extend throughout the entire car. The radiator is deeper and unusually efficient. Due to the increased wheelbase, the lines are longer and lower, giving an air of exceptional fleetness and grace. And the new Fisher bodies combine with this more attractive exterior appearance, a new degree of interior luxury.

The upholstery is of fine quality mohair or broadcloth, carefully tailored and fitted. The number of individual springs in the rear seat cushions has been increased by 25%. The windshield and windows have been redesigned to provide wider vision. And all interior fittings have been made more pleasing to the eye.

The chassis of the new Chevrolet Six has also been refined and advanced in a number of different ways. The frame is heavier, deeper and stronger than before. There is a smoother operating, long lived clutch; a sturdier front axle; an entirely new steering mechanism of the worm and sector type; an easier shifting transmission. In fact, every vital feature of the new car has been made better and more satisfactory to the owner.

Obviously, these many improvements are responsible for a higher standard of quality than before. And they become doubly significant when you consider that they are offered in a car which provides the smooth, quiet, flexible performance of a 50-horsepower, six-cylinder motor—the comfort of four long semi-elliptic springs and four hydraulic shock absorbers—the safety of a gasoline tank at the rear of the car—and an economy of operation not surpassed by any automobile.

AT NEW LOW PRICES

Fine as it is, the new Chevrolet Six now sells at lower prices—making the economy and satisfaction of Chevrolet ownership even more outstanding. We urge you to come in

COACHES FROM PRESS BOX

Trust Marquette's crafty football coach, Frank J. Murray, to bring out a new one. On the Hilltop the other night, Murray deserted the players' bench while his team was meeting a Missouri valley foe. From his perch in the top of the press box high above the playing field, Coach Murray watched the maneuvers of the teams and then gave orders by phone to his line coach sitting on the players' bench. The photo shows Murray (seated) and his two assistants, Bob Demoling, left, and Gil Corbett.

ORDER BOXERS TO REPORT DAY BEFORE BOUTS

A rule whereby there will be no substitution in any future event without the public being notified at least 24 hours in advance will be in effect for all future boxing programs offered here by the Orange County Athletic Club, Matchmaker "Pop" Barrett announced today.

This arrangement will be in force beginning tomorrow night when Young Papke and Urban Hernandez, able young welterweights, step six rounds in the main event of a 30-round show. Henry T. Foust and officials of the Orange County 40 and 8 society, co-promoters, are back of Barrett; 100 per cent in this effort to stamp out one of the boxing game's worst evils—the substitution mania.

Barrett's regulation seems to be a simple and sensible expedient. Fighters must "Punch Clock."

The veteran matchmaker has issued orders that every main-eventer from out of town must house himself in Santa Ana for 24 hours before fight-time. The boxer also must report at the sports desk of every newspaper in Orange county.

Papke, the Hollywood "Machine Gun," is the first "outside" boxer affected by Barrett's proviso. Papke pulled in to town late today and registered at a leading hotel where he will remain quartered until after his match. He planned to take a light workout at the Santa Ana gymnasium this afternoon.

District fistic fanciers will remember Young Papke, who is not to be confused with Billy Papke Jr., son of the former welterweight champion. Young Papke is a brother of "Ten-Second" Young Papke, a topnotcher at Jack Doyle's old Verna arena in the four-round days. The younger Papke started his career at Boyd Ellis' Delhi "Barn" a couple of years ago. He has knocked out something like 22 of his 23 opponents since turning professional. Last Friday at Hollywood, Papke decisively shaded Ritchie King who holds a decision, won at Delhi, over Hernandez. Papke had King on the canvas several times.

FOOTBALL BRIDE

People often wondered a few years ago if there weren't more than just a will to win back of those long runs on the gridiron that Chris Flanagan used to make for Notre Dame. There was a reason, Miss Rita Catherine Hancock of El Campo, Tex., Flanagan's sweetheart who is shown below. Chris will be through with his assistant coach's job at Purdue Nov. 22 and two days later he and Miss Hancock will go over to South Bend and be married in the Log chapel of Notre Dame.

PADDOCK WILL WED DAUGHTER OF PUBLISHER

PASADENA, Nov. 19.—The engagement of Mrs. Neva Prisk Malaby, daughter of Charles H. Prisk, publisher of the Pasadena Star-News, to Charlie Paddock, once famed as "the world's fastest hurdler," was announced here today.

The marriage will take place Thursday evening, December 11, in the Prisk family home and the couple will reside in Pasadena, it was said.

The bride-to-be has been a resident of Pasadena all her life and is a graduate of Pasadena high school and of Orton school.

Paddock attended Pasadena high school and then went on to the University of Southern California to win international fame as a sprinter. Paddock now is taking a law course at U. S. C. He also is writing a sports column for the Star-News.

The Rev. Robert Freeman, pastor of the Pasadena Presbyterian church, will perform the marriage ceremony.

Paddock once was considered the country's greatest star in the dashes. He represented the United States twice at the Olympic games.

Shortly before his retirement from active competition on the track he appeared in several motion pictures.

He once was reported engaged to Bebe Daniels, screen star who played opposite him in one of his films.

BEACH GOLF COURSE DENIED CITY WATER
NEWPORT BEACH, Nov. 19.—The proposed golf course north of Corona del Mar would require too much water for the city to safely contract to sell it a supply, the city council decided Monday night, in adopting a report of its water committee.

DONS TO CLOSE SEASON'S PLAY AT FULLERTON

All efforts having failed to book a football game for the Santa Ana junior college Dons this week, Coach Bill Cook announced that his team would resume active practice today for the Fullerton contest of November 29 and that no other game would be played by his team this year.

It was learned only yesterday that the game with the Yellowjackets was November 29 instead of November 22. Cook immediately got in touch with Riverside junior college, virtual champions of the Eastern division of the Southern California Jaycee conference but could not complete arrangements for a game here this week.

The freshmen teams at Loyola university and Whittier college were approached also but previous engagements blocked the way for a game with them.

Plan Big Pep Rally
In the meantime, players and students of both schools are building up enthusiasm for the Fullerton conflict. The Dons will stage a giant rally Wednesday, November 26, which will include a parade through the business district and the burning of an eight-room house.

While Fullerton is meeting Tempe State Teachers' college of Arizona at Fullerton Saturday, the Dons probably will sit in the stands and study Fullerton's style of play. Cook was lenient with his players Monday and Tuesday and did not hold practice but Cook indicated that he would conduct long and hard drills from now on. After losing to Glendale and Los Angeles on successive

HOOKS and SLIDES

DID YOU KNOW THAT—
Some boxers in Minneapolis wrote to the newspapers protesting that $3000 that Marty Brill was given by his father, a Philadelphia millionaire, for making three touchdowns against Penn . . . declaring he became a professional . . . establishing a dangerous precedent and allowing a loophole through which others may escape in the future . . . and that if Rockne "does not voluntarily keep Brill out of the Northwestern-Notre Dame game, Major Griffith, Big Ten athletic commissioner, should step in and prevent Northwestern from playing a team with any player of questionable standing in its line-up . . . to which the only reply we have at hand just now is, "What large ears you have, grandmother!"

TEMBLORS IN CALIFORNIA

I do not know Arthur M. Arlett, editor-in-chief of the University of California campus publication, The Daily Californian. But if this department ever should be converted from "Hooks and Slides" into "The Question Box," surely we would send for Mr. Arlett and offer him a fat contract.

Mr. Arlett is the champion endurance questioner of the world. Following the recent disaster to the California team, a 74 to 0 defeat at the hands of Southern California, Mr. Arlett waxed what you might call slightly querulous. Among other things he asked:

"Has California a competent coaching staff? Does the head coach (Nibs Price), though being a Californian, a good sport and a formerly successful assistant coach, justify the payment of a large salary, or should the associated students hire a good sport who has been a successful head coach, regardless of his alumni affiliations?"

ABOUT SUBSIDIZING

"Is the salary paid because of the school attended or the job to be filled? If California were to hire someone else to coach, would he be able to do any better with the material at hand? Is a proportionate amount of good material coming to California? If there is lack of it in an institution of this size that is the reason? Should we begin subsidizing in an effort to regain our pinnacle position, or should we 'go after' those who now subsidize?"

As a matter of fact, who does subsidize? Who can find out who subsidizes? And, having found out, who has the spirit and courage to say so in open meeting?

INVITE W. S. C. TO PLAY JAN. 1 PASADENA GAME

By GEORGE H. BEALE
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
PASADENA, Nov. 19.—Washington State college, winner of the Pacific Coast conference title, will defend the honor of the Far West in the annual Tournament of Roses New Year's football game.

In all probability the Cougars will oppose the University of Alabama.

The Tournament of Roses committee last night invited Washington State as a representative in the historic contest and it was made known that Alabama would be asked to come west in event the Crimson Tide is successful in its contest Saturday with Georgia.

Washington State went through its western schedule undefeated and untied. Its major feat was beating California and Southern California on successive Saturdays, 15 to 0, and 7 to 6, respectively.

The States have only one game remaining on their regular schedule. They go east November 29 to meet Villanova at Philadelphia.

Alabama, also has a clean slate to date with victories over Howard, Sewanee, Mississippi, Tennessee, Vanderbilt, Kentucky, Florida and Louisiana State.

Alabama has played two previous Rose Bowl games. It came here in 1928 to defeat Washington university, 20 to 19, and returned the next year to gain a 7 to 7 tie with Stanford.

Washington State has not appeared in the Tournament of Roses game since 1916, the first year an intercollegiate game was held. At that time the Northwestern team defeated Brown university, 14 to 0.

ABOUT "NIBS" PRICE

"Nibs" Price is a great coach. He might have kept down the score in the game with U. S. C. if he had used up stars he kept on the bench because of injuries. Price, balancing the boys' own future against a few touchdowns, took the right way, and took it on the chin himself by letting inferior stand in the path of the Trojan onslaught.

"Nibs" has proved himself a better sportsman than some of the other people at the University of California.

GOING TO CUBS

In the process of revamping his pitching staff for the 1931 season, Manager Rogers Hornsby of the Chicago Cubs acquired Ed Baecht, below, righthander from the Los Angeles club of the Pacific Coast league. Baecht pitched 49 games for the Angels last season, winning 26 and losing but 12. He struck out 187 batters. The deal cost the Cubs seven players and $20,000 in cash.

FOOTBALL WAR BETWEEN TROY AND U. C. ENDS

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 19.—The football battle of words between the University of Southern California on one side and the University of California on the other, wound up like a spent skyrocket today.

Oil was poured on the troubled waters when the University of California student council informed the Trojan undergraduate body that it had officially censured Arthur Arlett, editor of the Daily Californian, who started the fireworks with a bitter editorial against the South-erners.

Southern California, not to be outdone in gentlemanly politics, formally accepted the apology of the Bears at a meeting last night, but only after a heated discussion.

Arlett in his editorial accused U. S. C. of "professionalism" and "scholastic laxity" following the Trojan's 74 to 0 defeat of California.

The wrangle has developed one beneficial move—investigations into the athletic situation at each member college of the Pacific Coast conference probably will get under way immediately.

Dean T. M. Putnam of California suggested that each member investigate its own situation in a telegram yesterday to Dr. H. C. Willett, U. S. C. representative in the conference.

Gatton Draws But Jess Ayala Loses

FRESNO, Nov. 19.—The ring game received something of a body blow here last night when the smallest crowd of months turned out to see Dynamite Jack-son, 204, Los Angeles Negro, make short work of Chief White Horse, 190, San Diego.

Sailor Fay Kosky, 134, Chicago Pole, altogether outclassed Jess Ayala, 139, Anaheim. Irish Bel Kenney, 160, Fresno, and Hank Gatton, 162, Santa Ana, slugged four rounds to a draw.

WESTERN GAME IS PRODUCTIVE OF TOUCHDOWNS

BY FRANK (BUCK) O'NEILL
(I. N. S. Sports Writer)

NEW YORK, Nov. 19.—Now is the time of year when western football is compared to the eastern style of game. Perhaps it would be better to reverse the order and say that the eastern game is compared to the western style of making touchdowns, and the result is none too favorable to the east.

The fact that the west licks our teams has bred a psychology of superiority in the great open spaces. Maybe they're right. They have a knack of winning, and they have the man-power, which produces the knack of winning.

Of course, two or three leading coaches on the Pacific Coast, Howard Jones of University of Southern California and Glenn S. Warner of Stanford, are easterners. The brains that direct the great western man-power come out of the east. Jimmie Phelan at Washington comes from Notre Dame, which is in Indiana, as you probably know as well as this writer.

Style of Play Different
Regardless of the two leading coaches out there, or the three for that matter, there is a difference in the style of play, and the western game is more picturesque and convincing. Here in the east the attack is built on a principle of making first downs. Get the first downs and the touchdowns will take care of themselves has long been the watchword of eastern coaches.

With that principle in mind—and it's a sound principle—they have for years fashioned out three or four-yard plays that crunched out distance and thrilled crowds. But it lacked the swing and it lacked the dash of the new game that was fashioned out for western teams.

Rockne, leader of the new school of football, strikes for touchdowns and lets the first downs take care of themselves. The swinging, slashing attack of Notre Dame, directed outside of tackles behind a screen of interferers who have been long schooled in the art of blocking, carries a touchdown threat in every play.

Irish Use Swift Men
Notre Dame jumps into its shift, runs swift men on every formation, and if the ball carrier can get out side of the ends, he will go a long way. The Ramblers proved that against Penn.

The cardinal principle of defensive football is to drive the play toward the center. Ends are sent crashing into plays to hurry the development and strip the runner of his protecting screen of interference. With practically every team in the conference and on the Pacific Coast, the battle is planned to overcome this principle.

"Drive the plays inside" is the defensive slogan.

"Run outside of end," the watchword of the attack.

More daring use of the forward pass with development out of running plays has long been a feature of Pacific Coast and Big Ten play.

TROJANS MAY MEET MIDWEST ON TRACK

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 19.—Track meets with Iowa, Chicago, Nebraska and Butler loomed for the University of Southern California today when Coach Dean Cromwell admitted that he had been approached with offers for spring meets with those institutions.

U. S. C., under Cromwell, completed last season without defeat and brought home two national championships.

Frank Wykoff, who recently had his mark of 9 2/5 seconds in the 100-yard dash recognized as official, has two more years of competition with U. S. C. before he is graduated.

FULLERTON TO BE LAST GAME FOR S. A. 'BEES'

Santa Ana high school's Class B players warriors will put away their moleskins after a more or less unsuccessful grid season, following their game with Fullerton. The Indians are heavy favorites to annex the tilt but the Saints have a slight chance to upset the dope bucket because the players are in a grim, determined mood to "do or die" as a last gesture in their 1930 season.

The date of the fracas is undecided. Coach Clyde Patton of Santa Ana wants to finish the current football year next Saturday while Fullerton officials want the "natural" to be played Thanksgiving day. If the game is to be played on Turkey Day Patton must schedule a contest with the Anaheim "Bees" November 22, he said.

Meanwhile the menu so far this week has been two stiff scrimmages, one with the Julia C. Lathrop junior high school squad which lasted two hours. The Saints used their usual array of line thrusts, off-tackle slants, and a mean aerial game in the work-out. Bowe and Clark, two "dark horses," have thrust themselves in the limelight by virtue of steady work at the wing posts during the past week and are giving Spurgeon and Crawford a race to be in there when the whistle blows.

JONES ELIMINATED FROM A. A. U. QUEST

WASHINGTON, Nov. 19.—Bobby Jones headed the list of possible selections by the Amateur Athletic union as the outstanding amateur athlete of the year, but his retirement from amateur golf was regarded today as an automatic elimination from further consideration.

The James E. Sullivan Memorial trophy, therefore, will be awarded to one of the following:

Clarence De Mar, marathoner; Helene Madison, Seattle girl swimmer; Helen Wills Moody, the tennis queen; Barney Berlinger, University of Pennsylvania track athlete; Stella Walsh, Cleveland girl sprinter; Raymond Ruddy, Columbia university swimmer; Thomas Hitchcock Jr., international poloist; Harlow Rothert, Stanford all-around athlete; George Simpson, former Ohio State sprinter.

Association Golf Match Is Monday

SAN CLEMENTE, Nov. 19.—The November golf tourney of the Orange County Coast association, scheduled for Monday at Huntington Beach but which was cancelled due to rain, will be played on the beach city's municipal course next Monday. This was the decision today of Hal Warner, chairman of the sport's committee.

WEST WINDS

Here and There in Local Sport
By EDDIE WEST

Matchmaker "Pop" Barrett's determination to do away with the "substitution evil" in boxing commands my respect.

The decision to have every "outside" fighting man report in Santa Ana at least 24 hours before their matches is a move in the right direction, at least.

If Barrett makes good on his promises he will have done something toward restoring in the game a public's confidence that has been shaken in the last year.

Personally, I never have had any time for substitutions.

On occasions, doubtless, there have been instances where fight clubs have found it absolutely necessary to change their plans.

But nine times out of ten someone is to blame.

I never have been able to understand why a boxing club should not be expected to deliver the performance advertised just as much as a theater or a school.

GOEDERS PROSPERS

Joe Goeders is sitting on top of the world.

Roger Shipley's handsome young Santa Ana light heavyweight is "in the dough," as the saying is in the world of scrambled eggs and broken beans.

"Jelling Joe" goes in to Hollywood as a main-eventer Friday night.

He meets George Courtney, one of the country's ranking welterweights. Courtney, a Jack Kearns fighter, has beaten Maxie Reardon, Jack McVey and Dave Shad within the past two years.

Goeders got this assignment as a result of his six-round knockout of Jimmy Hanna in San Diego last week. Hanna had been signed to meet Courtney.

Shipley has two other "money shots" in sight for his prize package.

He has signed articles of agreement whereby Goeders will box Tom Patrick at the Olympic and Billy Papke Jr. at San Diego, both

REPORTED GAS WAR FAILS TO HIT SANTA ANA

Reports of an impending gasoline war in Southern California were discounted in Los Angeles today by operators of the major companies, and Santa Ana dealers were of the opinion that there would be no changes in the prices of motor fuel in the near future.

"A gasoline war starts when the companies begin to cut prices," said one dealer today. "When the dealers cut, it doesn't mean anything," he said.

Gasoline in Santa Ana is selling at all prices from 16 1/2 cents per gallon to 20 1/2 cents per gallon, with the major companies getting top prices for their product. There are a number of gasolines selling cheaper throughout the city, but the price has been down for some time and the lower price does not constitute a new war of any kind. No change in the gasoline price situation here was noted anywhere in Santa Ana.

GARDEN GROVE

GARDEN GROVE, Nov. 19.—Mrs. Floyd J. Seaman gave an interesting talk on "The Life of St. Augustine" at the Sunday evening service at the Methodist Episcopal church.

The men of the Alamitos Friends church spent Tuesday putting in cement driveways and walks around the new parsonage home of the Rev. and Mrs. Paul Younger. At the noon hour the Woman's Missionary society served dinner in the church banquet hall.

COLD NIGHTS SEND LODGERS TO JAIL

Although little of the business depression throughout the country has been noticed in Orange county, the county jail today noticed the effect through the number of men who apply at the jail for sleeping quarters during the cold nights.

Six men were turned out today after being given breakfast and over the week-end there were a total of 15 "lodgers" in the county jail.

These men, wandering about the country from city to city, without work and without money, are welcome at the jail. Here they are given food and a bed for the night. The number during the past 10 days has been the heaviest since the present jail was built, according to George Boyd, jailer, who acts as hotel keeper for the "lodgers."

IRVINE

IRVINE, Nov. 19.—Mr. and Mrs. Al Newton, of the Clarendon place, had as guests one day recently, Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Newton and daughter, Mrs. Edna Crisp, of San Pedro, and Mr. and Mrs. Maynard Gahan, of Wilmington.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Cady and two children, Leroy and June, have returned to their home on the Thompson - Farnsworth place in San Luis Rey after an absence of several months. Mr. and Mrs. Cady, who recently returned from a trip of several weeks to Kansas, left Mr. Cady's mother very much improved in health after a severe illness.

Horace Munger and Bennie and George Osterman, of El Toro, have returned from a successful deer hunting trip to Kalbar forest.

Billy Carpenter, of Los Angeles, spent the week end at the home of his uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Stockton, in Santa Ana. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Carpenter, enjoyed the week end in San Diego.

The first rehearsal of the play, "Just Women," was held at the old school house Monday afternoon. The play will be given at the Christmas entertainment and the women taking part in it are as follows: Mrs. George Veeh, Mrs. Harry Wright, Mrs. Robert Farrell, Mrs. Willis Mitchell, Mrs. Tom LeBar, Mrs. Ted Cox and Mrs. Ace Casey.

WESTMINSTER

WESTMINSTER, Nov. 19.—The wife of Gabriel Alacorn was taken Saturday night to the county hospital and operated upon for appendicitis.

W. O. Porter, son of W. L. Porter, was a Sunday visitor from Whittier in his father's home, and an uncle and aunt, who are in southern California from Yuba City joined the family group in the afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. R. O. Prichard and family motored to Long Beach Sunday to visit friends and finding them not at home returned only to find these same friends and a group of relatives from Los Angeles had been there during their absence.

Mrs. Ethel Buck spent from Saturday over Monday with Mr. Buck in Los Angeles.

When a Child is FEVERISH, CROSS, UPSET

Colic, gas, sour belching, frequent vomiting, feverishness, in babies and children, generally show food is souring in the little digestive tract. When these symptoms appear, give Baby a teaspoonful of Phillips' Milk of Magnesia. Add it to the first bottle of food in the morning. Older children should be given a tablespoonful in a glass of water. This will comfort the child—make his stomach and bowels easy. In five minutes he is comfortable, happy. It will sweep the bowels free of all sour, indigestible food. It opens the bowels in constipation, cures children's ailments. Children take it readily because it is palatable, pleasant-tasting. Learn its many uses for mother and child. Write for the interesting book, "Useful Information." Address The Phillips Co., 170 Varick St., New York, N. Y. It will be sent FREE. In buying, be sure to get genuine Phillips' Milk of Magnesia. Doctors have prescribed it for over 50 years.—Adv.

Supervisors Urged To Beautify Orange County Roads

LETTER TELLS ADVANTAGE OF PROPOSED PLAN

A plan designed to relieve unemployment and make improvements that would render Orange county more attractive and gain publicity for this section in newspapers, was presented to the board of supervisors yesterday in a letter from Will Shea, of Cypress, which was read to the board by County Clerk J. M. Backs.

The plan calls for use of road funds in cleaning up along the highways and making the roads in the county so beautiful that they would be a delight to the traveler and a source of favorable comment in the press of the state and nation. The plan includes also the painting of all public buildings inside and out. This, the writer declared, would lead to property owners following in the lead and might result in participation affecting some 10,000 homes in the county.

Shea pointed out that the road fund balance for his supervisorial district, the third, amounted to $105,000 at the end of the county fiscal year, which was more than double, he asserted, the amount which it held at the end of the previous year. This fund could be used in improving the highways and making their appearance more attractive, thus providing

Orange County Men to Attend Duck Dinner

Orange county will be represented officially at the National Orange show annual dinner in San Bernardino tonight by Willard Smith, chairman of the board of supervisors, and A. A. Brock, county agricultural commissioner. Representing Santa Ana will be Mayor Frank Purinton. The affair is held in the interests of the show, which is one of the big features of Southern California every year, attracting large numbers of visitors and tourists.

Postpone Session Of Farm Center

PLACENTIA, Nov. 19.—The membership drive of the Placentia Farm center began yesterday in accordance with the county-wide drive and will last three days, according to H. O. Easton, president.

The first meeting of the new farm center, which was scheduled for Thursday evening of this week, has been postponed because of conflicting events, and another date will be announced later.

Imitation sunlight, shining through fake windows approximately further the effect of real daylight, has been found to speed up the production of night workers.

employment for a number of persons, he stated.

No action was taken by the board in connection with the suggestion of the Cypress man.

CHURCH PLANS BIG DINNER ON MONDAY NIGHT

Plans are well under way today for the all-church dinner and meeting of the members and friends of the First Christian church, to be held in the new educational unit at the corner of Sixth and Birch streets next Monday night, it was announced today by the Rev. Walter S. Buchanan, pastor.

The affair is to be in the nature of a celebration by the church members over the completion of this addition to the facilities and equipment of the church for its program with young people. Several committees are working on various phases of the program to make it one of the outstanding affairs of the church year.

In addition to musical features there is to be a report on the recent national convention of the church, which was held in Washington, D. C., and was attended by Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Gerrard and the Rev. Mr. Buchanan, from the Santa Ana church.

The dinner is to be prepared and served by the women's society of the church under the direction of Mrs. T. D. Knights. Decorations are in charge of a committee headed by Mrs. W. E. Dixon, while musical features are being arranged by D. H. Tibbals. Reservations may be made for the affair through the church office or any official of the church.

Dorritt A. Blair Marries S. H. Smith

LA HABRA, Nov. 19.—Culminating a romance of school days at Fullerton high school Miss Dorritt Adele Blair, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Blair, became the wife of Steve E. Smith, only son of Mr. and Mrs. Claude E. Smith, of West Central Avenue, November 15. The wedding took place at the home of the bride's parents on East Central avenue with the Rev. A. C. Earley, city clerk, reading the marriage lines.

Mrs. Smith chose a smart navy blue ensemble with white trimming and wore hat and accessories to match. She wore a corsage of carnations, her favorite flower. Additional baskets of carnations and mixed fall flowers were used effectively about the room.

The newbrides will make their home in Long Beach, where Mr. Smith is employed by the Republic Supply company. His bride formerly was employed by the American States Water company at La Habra and Placentia. They graduated from Fullerton high school with the class of 1928. She graduated from La Habra grammar school while he graduated from Lowell school.

PLANE PLANTS TREES

HONOLULU.—The forestry department of Hawaii has been engaged this season in planting trees by airplane. A U. S. army plane was used on the job. It was flown over a large eroded area and 189 pounds of seeds were dropped from an elevation of 2000 feet. Mixed seed was used.

The Lincoln Highway is said to be the most direct route to San Francisco from the Atlantic coast.

APPROVAL FOR BEACH SEWAGE PLANT SOUGHT

The request of Newport Beach for approval of its proposed sewage disposal plant in county territory was presented to the board of supervisors yesterday at the afternoon session of the board by R. L. Patterson, city engineer of the beach city. Patterson informed the board that proceedings had been started in connection with the project and that territory outside the city was sought as a site for the plant. Approval by the county government is necessary in the legal proceedings in connection with the matter.

The plant which it is proposed to erect, will cost approximately $185,000, Patterson asserted yesterday. He submitted maps, plans and specifications and copies of the legal proceedings in connection with the project to the board, for its approval. The board referred the matter to the county health department, the district attorney and the county engineer, requesting that a report on the matter from these three be submitted at the board meeting next week.

During the session yesterday afternoon, A. Griffith, of Anaheim, representing property owners along South Palm street, which recently has been widened and paved as the first link in the harbor boulevard from Fullerton to Costa Mesa, appeared before the board and requested financial assistance in paying for this improvement from the gas tax fund. He was advised by Supervisor William Schumacher that this could not be done, as it was against the policy of the board to aid any projects in cities other than the main through thoroughfares.

COAST BODY IS ADDRESSED BY EDWARDS, CRAIG

The Orange County Coast association met at the Golden Bear cafe in Huntington Beach last night, with about 50 members present. The principal topic for discussion was legislation and the principal speakers were N. T. Edwards, of Orange, state senator, and Ted Craig, of Brea, member of the legislature.

Senator Edwards gave a detailed account of the way legislative matters are handled at Sacramento. He pointed out that northern California has a majority in the senate. Southern California holds the majority in population but the population is only the basis for apportionment, while the apportionment is actually made in the senate, he said. He declared that there would be quite a scrap for Southern California to get the increase it was entitled to in congressmen, senators and legislators.

He said there was talk of creating several congressmen at large, and that Orange, San Bernardino and Riverside counties should and probably would have one congressman and Imperial and San Diego counties one, thus dividing the district now represented by Congressman Swing.

Assembly Ted Craig gave a very short talk, expressing his full sympathy with the matters being handled by the Orange Coast association, and praised its organization for the work it is doing.

A vote of thanks was given the senator and the assemblyman and a pledge of support was accorded them. Announcement was made that the next meeting of the association would be held at the Barbara Worth hotel, in El Centro, November 29th.

It was voted to hold a joint meeting with the Associated Chambers of Commerce at the Huntington Beach city auditorium December 18th. Judge C. P. Patton, of Huntington Beach, extended the invitation to hold the joint meeting there. Announcement was made that the association A. F. tourney scheduled for last Monday had been postponed on account of rain and would be held next Monday afternoon at the Community golf course in Huntington Beach. The tourney will be followed by a chicken dinner at the Huntington Inn.

W. D. Miller, of Seal Beach, president of the association was unable to attend on account of illness and Vice President Malcolm presided.

A new proposal brought up at the meeting was the suggestion for posting of signs along the highways directing persons to the nearest hospital and ambulance, with phone numbers also posted. This measure would aid victims of highway accidents. It was referred to the highway committee for action at the next meeting.

Family were dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Clark in Huntington Park Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Delaney, of Long Beach, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. John Pope Sunday.

Originals showing the proper colorings are on display in the windows of The Register, the Juvenile library on Fifth street and in Watkins Bakery, Fourth and Sycamore streets. All pictures must be in the mails not later than midnight tomorrow.

CAR LICENSES TO BE PASSED OUT DEC. 15

Applications for 1931 automobile license plates will be accepted on and after December 1, according to an announcement by Frank G. Snook, chief of the Motor Vehicle Division.

Mail applications should be mailed directly to the division's main office at Sacramento. Counter delivery of plates will begin on December 15.

Those who wish to be spared inconvenience of standing in line to receive plates should apply by mail, Snook said. The procedure to obtain new plates by mail is to enclose the white certificate of registration and the fee in an envelope and mail both to Sacramento.

Following the inspection next Monday afternoon, the city council will instruct the city engineer to submit plans for remedying the condition.

CITY COUNCIL WILL INSPECT DELHI STREETS

Acting on a petition submitted by residents of Delhi, complaining of the condition of the streets in that district, rendered impassable by the cutting up of the surface for installation of sewer and water service, a condition accentuated by the recent rain, members of the city council next Monday afternoon will make an inspection of the district for the purpose of securing first hand information regarding the situation complained of. The city trustees will be accompanied by the city engineer and officials of the water department.

According to the complaint filed with the city council the condition of the streets in the district is so bad that it is almost impossible to travel over them in rainy weather. It was added that the situation is very hard on small school children who are compelled to walk over muddy and water-soaked streets on their way to and from school.

Councilman Stanley E. Goode, in discussing the complaint, told the members of the council that he had received complaint from several doctors regarding the condition of the streets in the Delhi district, some of the doctors having experienced some difficulty in getting in

The Bobwhite

Do you know Bob White? Not Robert White, but just Bob White. By some it is called a quail and by some a partridge, but there is no good reason for not calling it bobwhite. That is the name it has given to itself, and that is what it calls itself as it looks around from the top of a fence or a branch of a tree.

It is one of the birds that tells its name very plainly. Sometimes it will call "bob-bob-white." When the farmer has a lot of hay cut and drying in the meadow or timothy field he hears it say, "More-wet," and would rather it would keep still. At other times its call is so cheerful that even if it should mean a shower, one is sure that rain is just the thing that is wanted. For what would this earth do without the rain that falls from the clouds above?

You will have to go to the country to see the bobwhite. There is not enough of what it likes to eat in the towns. But it is to be hoped that you will not have to go far before you see one.

There is one kind or another in every part of this country. They do not all call bobwhite. Since those around here do, and they are not real quail like those across the ocean, there is no good reason for calling them anything but the name that all boys and girls like—bobwhite.

The upper part of the bird is reddish brown, spotted and dotted with black and banded with yellowish. The under part is yellowish white with reddish brown and black streaks. There is a lot of white about the head. They all look alike except that the mother and young are of a duller color.

Bobwhites are ground birds. All their food is taken from the ground unless deep snows drive them to shrubbery for berries. Their nests are just hollow places lined with grass and leaves.

It is not the bobwhite's fault that there are not more of these birds all over the country. They are very watchful of danger both to themselves and to their little ones. They hide quickly and when they are quiet it is not easy for even the sharpest eyes to see them, because they are so like the color of dried leaves and grass.

If bobwhite were allowed to tell his own story he would give us something like this. He would tell us that he is not a song bird but belongs to what are called game birds. Those are birds that people kill for food. He would say: "I am very small and a man gets very little when he does get me. My Maker has given me a very plain coat. I do not wear a red cap or a bright colored coat. If I did I would not wonder if I were easily seen and killed. I try to spend most of my time on the ground, I even sleep on the ground, choosing carefully a place to rest. I would like to come and live in their yards and in the gardens about their houses if they would only let me. I do try it sometimes. I could help them so much. There are so many bugs in their gardens that I like and that hurt their plants. I like the weed seeds, too, and weeds crowd out the other plants, taking the moisture and richness out of the ground that the other plants need to grow well and give the farmer and his wife a good crop. They don't know how many more nice vegetables they would have if they would protect me and let me be their friend. They surely would not go on from year to year, letting me have such a hard time when they could do so much to take away the danger.

The danger to me is not all in the guns of the men and boys. In winter when the snow is deep I can find very little food. If the boys would throw some grain in a sheltered place where there is no snow and where we could find it, it would save a lot of our lives. They would not need to do this very often, and some winters not at all. We would much more than pay them back for their trouble in the spring and summer. Boys surely don't know how much they could help us or they would do it."

The bobwhite is very much of a stay-at-home bird. They seldom go very far from the nest in which they were hatched.

They hide their nests and keep the secret very carefully. There are often eighteen or twenty pure white glossy eggs in a nest. These eggs are quite pointed at one end. When the little bobwhites hatch from the eggs they are quite strong and not naked as most other little birds are, but covered with down, as chicks are. They must already be strong in the eggs for they cut a circle around the larger end and come out where the round piece falls away. The down that covers them is brown, mottled with darker streaks. They are very tiny and so tame that they will not run unless danger is near and the parents give a warning call. They do not run when hatched by a little bantam hen. They understand if only a few hours old and will scamper and hide in a little hollow place, and keep so quiet that they cannot be told from the dried leaves among which they crouch. Feathers begin to show when they are a week old, and when three weeks old they have wing feathers and can fly.

There are no sweeter sounds to be heard than the talk and twitter of small bobwhites. All boys and girls would do all they could to have these birds come around their homes if once they have heard those sweet little twittering sounds that they make as they go about busily picking up food.

They keep together in a little family called a covey until spring when they begin to look about for nesting places.

People often try to tell what birds eat to show how useful they are. It is hard to tell of the good that bobwhites do, it is so much. A little one will eat its own weight of food daily. The old ones eat chinch bugs, army worms, potato beetles, striped cucumber beetles, and many other insects, besides at least sixty kinds of weed seeds. If each bird ate only a half ounce of seeds a day a covey would easily eat tons in a year, besides the insects. We will let each farmer count up when help to him that would mean.

One man fed a flock during winter. They came for their supper and slept under an evergreen tree in his yard. When ready to go to sleep two birds stood together, tails touching, and then the others, one by one, crowded together and formed a close circle with tails in and heads out and shoulder touching shoulder.

One time one was left out. It ran around the circle looking for a place to get in. It jumped upon their backs and examined each place carefully, and at last pushed itself down between two and became a part of the circle.

Both parent birds lead the little ones about, and both squat down and let the baby bobwhites creep under them when they are cold, as a mother hen does. The father bird is on the lookout, runs ahead, and looks about to see everything, and

INSTRUCTIONS FOR COLORING

Before beginning to color this picture it would be well to draw a line around the outside to form a square about four and one-half inches wide by six and one-half inches high.

This should be a snow picture with snow covering the ground and bushes. The snow should be almost white, shaded with a warm gray and blue. The dead grass and bushes can be brown shaded with dark red, a little yellow and green.

Most all of us have seen the Bobwhite or Quail and have some idea of its color. The back is a rich brown with a dark brown and black spots on the wing, the bill is black, the eyes are black with a light streak above; under the throat is almost white, running back about half way around the neck to black and then blending into brown. The breast is speckled with white and brown. Use a little yellow around the head to give it color. After the picture is finished you can put in a few flakes of white to indicate snow flakes, which will add a touch of winter to the picture.

gives the alarm when danger is in the way. If they must they rise to the air with a whirling sound made by the wings, and fly to a tree.

A pair of bobwhites chose a place for their nest only a few feet from the back door step of a house. A dog had its house near by and the cat would lie on the step in the sunshine. One day a stranger came to the house and the farmer was telling him about the nest. The stranger began advising the farmer to get some high wire fencing and put it around the nest to keep the dog and cat away. "Oh!" said the farmer. "That is not needed. The bobwhites are around with them often and even eat with the chickens." A thing like that would give you as much pleasure as you would get from feeding birds at a free lunch counter or from your hand.

An important feature of the Santa Ana W. C. T. U. all-day meeting held yesterday in the First Presbyterian church was a forceful address given by a state W. C. T. U. inspector, stressing the importance of a mother's alertness in raising her daughters. The present narcotic situation in Southern California was considered as a menace which only a mother's watchfulness and protection might overthrow.

During the morning session, community singing was led by Mrs. Harmon, who followed with whistling and vocal solos. "The Book of Amos," the devotional Bible study, was given by Mrs. U. E. Harding. Mrs. Amy V. Evans, president of the Santa Ana division, outlined a number of interesting plans for the ensuing year.

Luncheon at noon, with Mrs. Susan Oglesby and Mrs. Ella Strassburger as hostesses, served as a pleasing intermission. Mrs. Oglesby, chairman of the program committee, reviewed Thanksgiving from the days of the Israelites to the present time. "Light-line" members were chosen for the year, and include Mrs. H. W. Worley, of Poochew, China; Mrs. Grace Rowley, of Wei-Hsien, Chanting, China; Mrs. Charles Stewart, Rowel-Pindl, India, and Miss Virginia Hazel Stucky, of the Santa Ana division, outlined a number of interesting plans for the ensuing year.

During the afternoon meeting J. F. Burke, publisher of the Register, was given a vote of thanks for his continued support of the W. C. T. U. and for his generosity in giving newspaper publicity. Otto Jacobs, of the American Legion, spoke on the needy and "red-blooded" Legion members, and Armistice day was proclaimed as the most wonderful day in the year. Miss Hazel Stucky provided the music for the afternoon, giving vocal solos. About 75 were present.

Charming Dinner Was
In Observation of National Day

A charming little family dinner was held early this week when Mr. and Mrs. V. J. Anderson were hosts in their home at 930 South Main street, honoring the 84th birthday anniversary of Mrs. Anderson's grandmother, Mrs. Ann Manning, who arrived recently from Tacoma, Wash., to spend the winter.

Small yellow chrysanthemums formed a floral setting at the table, and harmonized prettily with the slender yellow tapers and delicate-hued nut cups. A large birthday cake decorated with lilies of the valley and topped with 84 glowing candles, was made by Mrs. George Larsen, of Anaheim, and was a delectable feature of the dessert course.

Mrs. Manning received a number of gifts, one of the most charming of which was an old-fashioned nosegay of lovely flowers.

Those sharing Mr. and Mrs. Anderson's hospitality with Mrs. Manning were the children of the home, Fern, Don and Roger Anderson; Mr. and Mrs. George Larson; daughter, Dolores, of Anaheim; Mrs. E. Ann Anderson, of Mrs. Mollie McDougall, of Tacoma, Wash. who is spending the winter here in the Anderson home with Mrs. Manning.

Little Lad Observed
Second Birthday
With Party

Although second birthday anniversaries are usually among those which everyone but the celebrant remembers in later years, little Jimmie Armfield's was celebrated in such a manner Monday night when his mother, Mrs. Glendene Armfield, was hostess, that he has put in his claim for such an affair every year at this time. The affair was held in the home of the little boy's grandfather, T. B. Elliott on Fairhaven avenue, near Prospect. Games occupied the early evening hours, culminated when a delectable refreshment course was served. A tiered cake iced in pink with a birthday inscription and two candles in gold and ruby red, was a feature of the menu course.

Those sharing Mrs. Armfield's hospitality with Jimmie were Billie Grant, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Grant of Santa Ana Gardens; Joyce Hull and brother, children of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Hull; John Thomas and Ruth Ann Larson, children of Mr. and Mrs. Larson of Orange; Frankie McDowell, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry McDowell of this city, and Buddy, small son of Mr. Williams of this city, and John Swartzbaugh of Orange.

HOSTESSES PRESENT SMART
PARTY ON HOLIDAY THEME

Holiday hospitality could be no more delightfully expressed than it was yesterday in Santa Ana Country club, when two of the city's prominent young matrons, Mrs. Harry C. Westover and Mrs. Robert Charles Mize, paid deference to the genial spirit of the Thanksgiving season by entertaining a large group of friends at luncheon and an afternoon of bridge.

The Thanksgiving motif was apparent in all details of the party, and the many beautiful flowers of the season used to embellish foyers and assembly room, to all phases of the luncheon menu and the bridge session which followed. Friends of the hostesses had followed that pleasant California custom of sending blossoms, and so all had bouquets of scarlet-berried shrubbery, came from gardens of Mrs. Orlyn Robertson, Mrs. James E. Paul, Mrs. Cassius Paul and many others.

Mrs. Mize chose a golden brown transparent velvet for her costume, and Mrs. Westover wore a graceful gown of black georgette and lace. Each wore a corsage of sweet peas and malden fern. Assisting in various hostess duties, including the checking of arrivals, were Mrs. George Kenneth Seovel and Mrs. Loyal K. King.

Luncheon was served at a number of small tables grouped in friendly proximity. Each table was an effective study with its golden Japanese persimmons and clusters of purple and cool green grapes, and place cards representing demure maidens on Thanksgiving errands bound. The cards later did double duty for tallying bridge scores those of Mrs. Nelson T. Edwards and Mrs. Milford Willis showing the maximum of success in the card contest.

Everyone was intrigued by the attractive appearance of the prizes bestowed by the hostesses for the all hat boxes were covered with iridescent green paper and tied with flaring yellow tulle, the colors upmost in the decorative effect. But the guests were still more intrigued when the boxes were opened to display the unique prizes of toothsome young turkeys, all in readiness to slip into the oven for just such a typical holiday feast as the guests had enjoyed with their hostesses. Adding interest to the bestowal of the prizes on Mrs. Edwards and Mrs. Willis, was the fact that they were entertaining today at the second in a series of pre-Thanksgiving bridge luncheons.

Asked to share the pleasant hospitality of Mrs. Mize and Mrs. Westover, were Mesdames James Allen, A. H. Allen, Homer Ames, Herbert Allen, George Briggs, Willis P. Baker, L. W. Briggs, John P. Baumgartner, Alex. Brownridge, J. N. Bartholomew, J. E. Burke, Joe Burke, C. R. Barker, Frank Champion of Laguna Beach, C. V. Davis, Harry T. Duckett, W. L. Delmink, Maurice Enderle, Emmett Elliott, Nelson Edwards of Orange, Bob Fernandez, George Paul Jr., H. J. Legion Glee Club Plans Pleasant Dance
One of the most enjoyable of the pre-Thanksgiving functions, promises to be the holiday ball which Legion Auxiliary Glee club members are planning for next Saturday night at Legion hall.

Each member of this singing organization, has constituted herself a committee of one to work for the success of the party, and all are receiving the co-operation of the auxiliary as a whole as well as the American Legion, in their plans. Mrs. Morris Cain, music chairman, has promised an excellent orchestra with a program of the latest twelve dance music, and it is expected that the hostess organization will sing some of their more popular choruses under the leadership of Cecil Fross Willis (Mrs. Thomas Willis).

Dancing will begin at 8:30 o'clock.

Dinner For Veterans
Of Civil War Was Happy Event

It was in the spirit of those lads of 1860 whose courage and unselfishness led to that great union of the north and south, that Civil war veterans attended the sumptuous turkey dinner yesterday noon when members of the W.R.C. were hostesses in Legion hall. For although the years have played havoc with the physical attributes of the few remaining soldiers, they have bonded them so closely together that memories of earlier days are always foremost when such gatherings take place.

Indeed some of the kindly old men were seen to lean to their life companions and remark, "It reminds me of when we were young, mother." The same spirit continued throughout the dinner hour, and when near the close of the program, Fred Ramsdell played old southern tunes on the violin, accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Estelle Grey, the enthusiasm with which the soldiers responded was thrilling indeed.

About 90 were present to share the hospitality of the W.R.C., and among these were W.R.C. members, the veterans, and their wives and widows.

The spirit of the holidays was evidenced at the prettily appointed tables where green salads were in contrast with the bowls full of luscious red cranberry sauce. Napkins bore figures of turkeys and other Thanksgiving symbols. Three long tables were arranged, and at the center one sat the honored comrades, their wives, and widows.

Doxology was led by H. E. Smith. Mrs. Ida Millen, president of the W.R.C., acted as toastmistress, and presented a number of special guests. Among these was Mrs. Nell McCombs, of Los Angeles, who at one time was a member of the Santa Ana division; Mrs. Alice Yount, past department president; Mrs. Frances Fuller, president of the Ladies of the G.A.R.; Miss Mimie Cowan, president of the Daughters of Union Veterans; Commander J. H. Brown, of the post, and Mrs. J. H. Brown, secretary of the W.R.C., who read a lovely poem in honor of the veterans, titled, "To the Grand Army Boys."

The Rev. W. H. McPeak of the United Presbyterian church, gave the address of the day, lauding the soldiers for their part in the accomplishments of the present generation. He attributed to them the successes of today as outgrowths of the foundation they laid years ago. Mrs. McPeak was a guest with the Rev. Mr. McPeak.

Many were those who gave art prompts talks, praising the art of the cooks who so successfully carried out plans for the annual dinner. Mrs. Margaret Hill as chairman of the kitchen committee, was assisted by Mrs. Beatrice Hosler, Mrs. Mary Crissman, Mrs. Mary Marsten, Mrs. Alice Yount and Mrs. Leona Barnett.

The dining room committee, with Mrs. Elizabeth Birkhead as chairman, included Mrs. Hattie Cozad, Mrs. Eleanor Cozad, Mrs. Thompson, Mrs. Estelle Gray, Mrs. Bell McConnell and Mrs. Geraldine Beall.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

Women of the Country club membership were today reminded of the November bridge tea to be held in the clubhouse Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock, with Mrs. Walter Pixley and Mrs. A. F. LeGaye as hostesses. Playing will begin at 2 o'clock, with light refreshments to be served at the close of the afternoon. For those members who wish to spend a longer interval in the pleasant clubhouse, luncheon will be featured in the solarium from 12:30 to 2 o'clock.

The League of Women Voters will meet Friday morning at 10 o'clock in the Y. W. C. A. rooms. A discussion of "Our Wants and How They Are Satisfied," will be led by Mrs. Louise G. Mock, president of the league. The book is especially timely because of the economic situation of today. Mrs. George B. Mangold who expects to be present to speak on "Unemployment" has been called to Washington following her appointment to the executive board of the National Women Voters as director of the seventh region. All members and friends are urged to be present.

The Thimble club of the Native Daughters of the Golden West will hold an all-day meeting tomorrow with Mrs. Marguerite Cramer as hostess in her home at 555 South Ohio street in Anaheim. A pot-luck luncheon will be served.

The South section of the Woman's Aid Society of the First Methodist church will meet Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock with Mrs. Floyd Smith, at 710 South Ross street.

The Southwest section of the Ladies' Aid of the First Presbyterian church will meet tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock in the church. Professor William Clayton, of the high school, will talk on "Skyline Travels." Anyone interested is cordially invited to attend. Refreshments will be served.

Stephenson Home Was Setting For Book
Review Meeting

Acclaimed by many as one of the most enjoyable meetings in their section history, was that of yesterday afternoon when members of the First Book Review section of Ebell society were entertained, with Mrs. Robert Charles Mize, and Mrs. T. E. Stephenson as co-hostesses in the latter's home, 1522 North Broadway.

Mrs. Stephenson reviewed "Precious Bane," by Mary Webb. The book proved to be an interesting story of English country life depicted with quaint phraseology and delightful diction, and many were the old English customs which were brought to light. Although the book was written in 1924 it has been brought before the American public quite recently. Mrs. W. H. DeWolfe followed with an excellent critical analysis of the book, praising highly the English author. She compared the writer with the famed Thomas Hardy, giving a brief history of his life and works.

Refreshments were served, and evidenced the Thanksgiving motif.

Spinster Pledges Gave
Program Features
For Sisterhood

Pledges provided the program for the entertainment of the Sisterhood of Spinster, jaycee club, when they met this week in the home of Miss Margaret Lenz on Tustin avenue. These included memory selections by Miss Helen Spangler and Miss Wilma Patterson. Other talks included those on "Duties of a Pledge" by Miss Nelle Grafton; "My Ideal Man," Miss Bernice Summers; "My Date Album," Miss Grace Skinner; "The Advantages of Belonging to the Spinsters," Miss Margaret Gardner. A clever theme was written and sung by Miss Sherrill Spurgeon for the Spinster to the tune of "The Way I Do With You." Further tasks were assigned the pledges for the weeks until formal initiation on December 19 in either Laguna Beach or Balboa after four days to be known as "Hades week."

Miss Betty Maloney, supreme Spinster, presided at the short business meeting when it was decided to accept as their emblem a gold script "S" inset with pearls, in pin form. It was voted to accept with pleasure an invitation from Las Meninas to a bridge party to be held on December 1 in honor of all the service clubs of the college. The hostess, Miss Lenz, served refreshments with the assistance of Miss Loretta Spangler and Miss Frances Vieira to Mrs. E. M. Sundquist, Mrs. Ralph Livenspire and the Misses Grace Marcher, Phyllis O'Connor, Margery Adams, Margaret Wilson, Betty Maloney, Betty Wiswall, Ada Marie Hendrickson, Marian Parsons, Mary Todd Tate, Bernice Summers, Sherrill Spurgeon, Wilma Patterson, Nelle Grafton, Grace Skinner and Helen Spangler.

Friendly Dozen Club
Met In Miller Home

Members of the Friendly Dozen club were pleasantly entertained yesterday afternoon when they met in the home of Mrs. John Miller at 902 Oak street. Bowls of red roses adorned the living rooms.

The usual occupation of fancy-work was enjoyed, and at the conclusion of the afternoon, refreshments of hot chocolate and cookies were served by the hostess.

Those sharing the happy afternoon with Mrs. Miller, were Mesdames Cora Wood, Harold Fish, J. Peterson, I. E. Threlkeld, Etta Eric, Anna Gall, Martha Westlake, and the Misses Myra Westlake and May Thompson.

Venice Party Attended
By Santa Ana Women

Mrs. Jess Wright, Mrs. Leonard White, Mrs. J. F. Jacoby, Mrs. Lewis Bittle and Mrs. Earl Lepper were Santa Anans who attended a lovely shower recently in Venice when Mrs. Edward McElroy entertained in honor of Mrs. Roy Schalten, both of whom were former residents of this city.

Small yellow chrysanthemums evidenced the color motif of the afternoon. Bridge was played and Mrs. Wright and Mrs. Jacoby scored first and second high. Refreshments were served at a late hour, and Mrs. Schalten was presented with many interesting looking packages.

PARENT-TEACHERS

Edison Parent-Teacher association will hold its regular monthly meeting tomorrow afternoon at 2:45 o'clock in the school, with "Character Training" as the study hour theme, to be followed by a social interval and refreshments.

During the business session, plans will be completed for the Hard Times party which the association is to give on Friday night at 7:15 o'clock, in the school building. This will be a merry affair to which all parents and the general public will be welcome, and will open with inspection of the amusing costumes. Program features will include shadow pictures, the "Rag School," patch contest, tin can boxing match, and two grand marches, one for the adults and one for the children.

Additional features will be the white elephant sale, the auctioning of boxes, and the award of prizes in four groups of the cleverest costumes worn by men, women, boys and girls.

Gratifying Success
In Hospitality

Those who have ever enjoyed one of the annual turkey dinners prepared and served each Thanksgiving season by members of Ebell's Day Nursery board, were eager guests, together with their friends, at the 1930 event held last night in the peace room of the clubhouse, when it seemed that all previous affairs of the kind were surpassed, and the friendly feeling, to say nothing of the delectable menu and its serving by deft Ebell women, created an unusually pleasant effect.

Long tables gleamed with the true gold of California, in the vivid chrysanthemums interspersed with slender dinner tapers in golden yellow. Each table was presided over by a hostess, drawn from the executive board membership of the society, including the president, Mrs. Robert G. Tuttle, and place cards were used so that the several hundred guests had no difficulty in finding their places after ascertaining to which hostess group they belonged.

One of the pleasantest features of the affair, was the fact that the Day Nursery board members made it a special party by entertaining as their guests, the paint dealers and members of the local Painters' union who so recently did such a generous thing by donating materials and work for repainting and decorating the nursery on Garfield street. Wives of the men were included in the invitation, and the table was one of the merriest at the party.

Mrs. W. W. Kays, chairman of the Day Nursery board, and her sister, Mrs. Mesdames Perry E. Lewis, Edward C. Erwin, M. C. Williams, Roy Peterson, James L. Allen, C. E. Blawie, Lena Gulick Hewitt and O. H. Umberham, had made their plans so capably, that everything seemed to work like magic, and serving was accomplished with the aid of a bevy of interested members of the society, including Mrs. T. D. Knights, Mrs. H. L. Stone, Miss Mary Craig, Mrs. Clyde A. Bachs, Mrs. W. W. Anderson, Mrs. Caldwell, Mrs. Miller, Miss Leslie Smith, Mrs. Holmes Bishop, Mrs. A. Thornhill, Mrs. Edward Walker, Miss Preble Drake, Mrs. Walter Hickey, Mrs. E. I. Preble, Mrs. C. H. Lurker, Mrs. Walter E. Watkins, Mrs. J. Edmund Snow, Miss Catherine Hickey, Miss Margaret Hickey, Mrs. L. E. Allen, Mrs. E. B. Sprague, Mrs. T. F. Ham, Mrs. James Clark, Mrs. Harold Wahlberg, Mrs. Minnie McCall Collins, Miss Nell Isaacson, Miss Leona Tomkins, Mrs. Irene Estes, Mrs. James L. Allen, and Mrs. W. D. Baker.

Mrs. James L. Allen had charge of the lounge where card tables were in readiness for those wishing a quiet round of bridge as a postlude to the delectable dinner.

All proceeds from the evening will be added to the Day Nursery fund, one of Ebell society's most valuable projects.

White Shrine Circle
Was Entertained In
Jack Willey Home

Most enjoyable was yesterday's meeting of the White Shrine circle with Mrs. True Kimball and Mrs. Jack Willey as co-hostesses in the latter's home on North Main street. Autumn flowers were used profusely throughout the rooms, and formed a pretty setting for the post-luck luncheon followed by an afternoon of cards.

Mrs. W. W. Hyde and Mrs. W. G. Lewis were successful in holding high scores at bridge, while Miss Henrietta Bohling was consoled, each receiving an attractive gift.

Those present, other than Mrs. Kimball and Mrs. Willey, the hostesses, were Mesdames W. W. Hyde, George Shippe, Walter Wright, W. G. Lewis, R. A. Evans, J. E. Vincent, David Wolfson, Hugh Henry, P. N. Chapin, Elise Bohling and Miss Henrietta Bohling.

Refreshments followed and the hostess was assisted in serving by members of the cast, in their colorful costumes.

CHURCH SOCIETIES

Young People's Group
Members of the Young People's society of St. Peter's Lutheran church held a most enjoyable monthly business meeting and social recently in the church parlors. Henry Omstead was host for the affair.

Following a short business meeting, a social time was enjoyed while members folded Christmas seals for the Orange County Tuberculosis association. Refreshments were served at a late hour, and about 20 were present to share in the events of the evening.

Boys' Club
The Boys' club of the Christian Church's class of the First Christian church held an interesting meeting last night in the Sunday school room at the church.

Bill Leonard, Miles Leonard and Clifford Haskell were initiated into membership and were required to do a number of strenuous but amusing stunts. Cotton Bennett, president, presided at the business session.

Those present were M. D. Haskell, class teacher, Cotton Bennett, Lawrence Taylor, John Taylor, Arthur Jacques, Claude Williams, Ira Dammaral, John Freebabe, James Lash, Dewitt Dishop, Bill Borce, Keith Hoffmaster, Francis Hall, Howard Rash, Floyd Montgomery, Harold Berry, Bill and Miles Leonard and Clifford Haskell.

Doris Welles Group
Over 30 members and friends of the Doris Welles auxiliary of the First Methodist church attended the meeting Monday night in the home of Miss Esther Hendrickson at 622 French street.

Miss Gertrude Richardson presided during the business session and Mrs. G. A. Warner led the devotionals. That five boxes of clothing and food supplies have

The MIXING BOWL by ANN MEREDITH

Serve More Soup in Cold Weather

Serve more soup now that cold weather is here. For luncheon a thick vegetable soup is both appetizing and good food. It may or may not contain meat stock—personally I like it best without. I make it by cutting up a head of celery, a head of lettuce, some tomato, parsley, carrots and an onion, in 3 quarts of water.

When this boils well add a generous chunk of butter, cover and simmer until done. Diced potato and turnip may be added in time to cook, or you may like a cup of pearl barley to replace the potato. This is a great source of growth vitamins and good for the whole family.

When you have a roast chicken, or roast meat served with stuffing and gravy, take the left-overs and make a rich broth from them, strain, and season as you wish, adding tomato sauce for variety, and serve it in cups for dinner. Cream of Mushroom Soup is another favorite and so easy to make: use either fresh or canned mushrooms, cut them fine and saute in butter to heat, then mash with a fork.

Have ready the thinnest kind of a cream sauce in the quantity wanted add the mushrooms, season with celery salt and pour over a tablespoonful of salted whipped cream topped with a dash of paprika, put in the bottom of each cup.

TODAY'S RECIPE

Red Cabbage A La Sarah
1 medium-sized head red cabbage
4 apples, pared and diced
1/4 cup vinegar
1/4 cup brown sugar
1/4 teaspoon salt
1/2 cup grape jelly
2 tablespoons butter

From the Gun Club Cook Book.
This method of cooking cabbage is somewhat like the sweet-sour cabbage but unusual in flavor due to the use of the grape jelly. It is an ideal vegetable to serve with any rich meat or roasted fowl.

Shred the head of cabbage fine, place in a kettle with the apple in a layer over it. Mix the sugar, vinegar, seasonings and jelly, and heat. Pour over the cabbage, add the butter, cover and simmer gently until the cabbage is slightly cooked. Reduce the heat still.

GEE, BETTY, HOWD YOU GET THIS OLD SHIRT SO WHITE? IT LOOKS LIKE NEW

"Just by soaking with a wonderful new soap!"

NO MORE of those gray-white washes for me, Tom! I've discovered a way to get clothes snow-white easily. Why, I don't even need to scrub! I just soak the wash in thick Rinso suds, and out comes everything sweet and clean—whiter than ever. Your shirts will last much longer now, because I won't have to scrub the life out of them to get them clean."

For washers, too

Cupor cup, Rinso gives twice as much suds as lightweight, puffed-up soaps—even in hardest water. Safe, lasting suds. Recommended by the makers of 38 famous washing machines.

Don't bother with bar soaps. Rinso is marvelous for dishwashing, too. Get the BIG package.

Las Meninas Group Enjoys Party In Tustin Home

Members of Las Meninas, girls' service organization of Santa Ana Junior college, were entertained in the home of Miss Miriam Samuelson, 123 South Pacific avenue, Tustin, Monday evening. A business meeting conducted by the president, Miss Ruth Fitz, occupied the earlier part of the evening, at which plans were completed for a bridge tea, which is to be given to members of other restricted women's societies of the junior college. Plans were also completed for final initiation rites, which will climax with a week-end house party at Balboa.

Following the business meeting, refreshments in keeping with the fall motif were served, and dancing occupied the remainder of the evening.

Those present included the advisor, Miss Genevieve Humiston, and club members Miss Ruth Fitz, Miss Catherine Harwood, Miss Juliette Taylor, and Miss Miriam Samuelson, and pledges Neva McDonald, Lorna Allen, Esther Romoff, Marion Taylor, Florence Stanley, Agnes McKinty and Ruth Gardner.

College Y. W. Girls Were Entertained At Luncheon

As a courtesy to the Santa Ana Junior college Y. W. C. A. and the fact that the Dons were to be the guests of Los Angeles Junior college, the Y. W. C. A. cabinet of Los Angeles jayees extended invitations to members of the local college for a luncheon preceding the football game of Saturday.

The local girls were entertained at Newman hall and after a friendly introduction discussions about the work of the different Y. W. C. A.'s were held. Corsages of red carnations and maidenhair fern were presented the guests at the delicious luncheon. Afterwards all attended the football game between the two colleges.

Attending the luncheon from Santa Ana were Miss Marcia Elliott, Miss Elizabeth Rinkler, Miss Helen Estock, Miss Geraldine Cole, Miss Evelyn Parks and Miss Louella Marshall.

MICKEY MOUSE CLUB TO HELP POOR NOV. 27

Food for the poor of Santa Ana on Thanksgiving day will be furnished in a large measure by the some 1300 children of the city who belong to the Santa Ana Mickey Mouse club, it was announced today by Norman Sprowl, Fox theaters manager here, who has arranged that all Mickey Mousers bring food for the poor to the theater.

At the regular meeting of the club, to be held at 1 o'clock Saturday afternoon, each Mickey Mouser has been asked to bring some kind of staple grocery. These will be piled up in the entrance of the theater and later turned over to the Santa Ana Salvation Army for distribution.

The plan to aid the poor on Thanksgiving day and the distribution of the food was conceived by The Register and the Fox West Coast theaters of Santa Ana and Salvation Army has agreed to distribute it in the proper places.

There are a number of families who will be and are now in need of food every day that the Salvation Army can aid and the donations by the members of the children's club will help in many ways in making Thanksgiving day here one to be remembered.

If there are any groceries left after all families have been taken care of, the Salvation Army implied that these would be used in the feeding of itinerants who have been here in large numbers during the past several days, asking for food and who have been served at the local Salvation Army home.

'RENEGADES' ONE OF YEAR'S BEST FILMS

Declared to be one of the best pictures that has been brought to Santa Ana this year and very much like "Ben Hur" the screen adaptation of which was outstanding in the motion picture industry, is "Renegades," which is now being shown at the Fox West Coast theater.

The picture opened in Santa Ana Monday and is scheduled to run through Friday night.

It features Warner Baxter in the leading role, a role unlike any of which he has portrayed in the past and a role in which he is certainly at his best. His acting in "Renegades" is faultless. Myrna Loy has the vampish role in the film and her part calls for a woman whose lack of heart carries right through the film even to the last scene.

Noah Beery also has an important role in the film, but Warner Baxter stands out in the production head and shoulders above all. He makes "Renegades" one of the year's best pictures.

The story concerns four men who are too "tough" for the French Legion. They enlist in it, then desert it and then after organizing the Rifles, they actually fight it. Action, thrills and a love story that will be remembered for a long time stand out in the film, one that should not be overlooked.

"King of Jazz" At Walker's Pleases

There is only one thing which can be said about "King of Jazz," the Universal-Paul Whiteman film, which opened last night, and then you have said all—the picture completely eclipses anything which has ever been thrown on a screen so far.

There is the "Bridal Veil" number—beauty immortalized. The "Bench in the Park"—a miniature musical comedy. "Happy Feet"—the fastest tempo in perfect line and tap dancing by the best chorus so far to appear in pictures. "Rhapsody in Blue"—the famous jazz symphony as an atmospheric gem. "Monte Carlo"—all the romance of Old Mexico, in one number, with John Boles' magnificent singing, making it still more romantic than ever.

"Apache" Opens at Shelley's Tonight

"The Apache," a powerful drama of the Parisian underworld, opens tonight for a three-night run at Shelley's Third and Bush street house.

"The Apache," which co-stars Margaret Livingston and Don Alvarado, is truly a story of thrills and suspense and with a theme similar to "Seventh Heaven."

Also on the program will be seen an Educational comedy, the last chapter of "The Golden Stallion" and a Felix cartoon, and tonight being gift night, twenty large bags of groceries will be given away.

PLACENTIA

PLACENTIA, Nov. 19. — Room mothers of the Placentia school met with the teachers Monday to plan for the year's work. Mrs. Lewis Edwarson acted as chairman of the meeting and Mrs. R. W. McCool and Mrs. Harlowe were appointed as chairmen of the room mothers of the main building and the primary building respectively, and will confer with the teachers in regard to Christmas plans.

Fewer parties will be given this year, it was agreed, and more attention will be given to bringing out a better attendance at P.-T. A. meetings.

Placentia Junior and Senior Fishermen attended a dinner meeting of the Fishermen's club at Torrance Monday evening. Present from Placentia were Don Milligan, Bob Green, Homer Cope-land, William Seeger, Charles Peemster, Leo Burns, James Henry and Roy Tillery.

'FEET FIRST' NOW AT FOX BROADWAY

"Feet First," Harold Lloyd's latest all-talking comedy is now being shown at the Fox Broadway theater.

The picture opened here Monday and shows through Thursday night. To get an idea of the popularity of Harold Lloyd in Santa Ana, is to see the vast throngs who attended the show during Monday and Tuesday. Long lines of persons have stood outside the theater waiting to get in on each occasion and every house has been a full house.

"Feet First" finds Lloyd as a shoe clerk in the Hawaiian Islands. He falls in love with a girl he thinks is high up in society and in order to win her takes correspondence courses in speaking. He meets her on various occasions and she soon falls in love with him when he poses as a big leather man.

Suspense rules the picture. From the time Lloyd finds his employer's wife in a seat in front of him trying on shoes until the end of the picture where he is seen dangling from the 12th floor of a building, suspense and thrills are in every scene, making "Feet First" one of the most entertaining pictures that has been brought here in the past several months.

'MYSTIC CLAYTON' IS HERE ON SATURDAY

A mystery act, slated to come to the Fox West Coast theater Saturday and Sunday is said to be one of the best of its kind that has been seen on the Pacific coast this year. "Mystic Clayton" is the mind reader, who not only tells of things that have happened in the private past of customers' lives, but predicts what is to come. Aside from mind reading, he performs a number of bizarre tricks on the stage that seem impossible and which make unusual entertainment.

One of the tricks is the shooting of a pellet with a ribbon tied to it, through the body of a girl assistant. He then works the ribbon back and forward making it appear without a doubt as having passed through the girl's body. Then there are the usual other mystic tricks that always please audiences.

The bringing of a magician to the theater this week marks the first time the Fox West Coast theaters have had an act of this kind in the past several years.

Girl Reserves Plan Recognition Service

One of the lovely candle-lighting ceremonies of the Girl Reserves is to be held Thursday evening at 7 o'clock in the Y. W. rooms, in connection with a recognition service for new members received into the organization during the past year. Mothers of the Girl Reserves and all members have been invited to the affair, while anyone interested in watching one of these beautiful services, will also be assured of a welcome.

Miss Katherine Bement, president of the inter-club council, will preside over the meeting assisted by Miss Mary Helen Bell, Miss Dorothy Cartwright, Girl Reserve secretary with the Y. W. C. A., will make a short talk outlining ideals and aims of the association. The formal recognition service when new members will be officially recognized as Girl Reserves, will be the final programmed feature.

Banquet Promises to Be Popular Affair

Promising to offer a most interesting evening for boys of the Julia Lathrop school together with their best pals, known to others as their fathers, is the Father and Son banquet scheduled for Thursday evening at 6:30 o'clock. The recently completed cafeteria will be the setting for the affair.

The banquet, an annual event, will take place under the auspices of the I. X. L. Boys' club of the school.

"Wings," has been chosen as an appropriate theme of the evening. Community singing will be led by Miss Edith Cornell, followed by the address of welcome by Donald Boyd, president of the I. X. L. club. Stanley Slaback, a student in the low 7 class, will respond with a poem, "Johnny's Pa." Musical numbers will be given by the Bush Hawaiian Guitars.

Dr. Percy Davis, assistant superintendent of schools, will talk on "The Take Off" and Robert Brown will follow with a vocal solo. "Stunt Flying" will be interpreted in various ways, in a poem "Jane Jones" by Franklin Davis, a story by Bud Wilson and in music by the Glee club boys. Superintendent J. A. Cranston will consider "The Flight" and H. G. Nelson, principal of Lathrop school, will conclude the series of talks with "The Landing." I. Fields will give a vocal solo.

Members of the faculty have aided admirably in planning the banquet, with Mrs. Iva M. Webster as general chairman. The program is in charge of Mrs. Grace Wolff and Miss Iva Carl while Aubrey Gilman heads the reception committee. Decorations and finance will be taken care of by Carol Nisewander and Fernie Scott. Walter Egger is publicity chairman.

The extent of Shakespeare's vocabulary was about 23,000 words.

PLAN TO GUARD LONDON'S FINE ART TREASURES

LONDON, Nov. 19. — Special guards are now watching over the priceless art treasures in Buckingham Palace and the great picture galleries of London.

The reason is the recent robberies of famous pictures from the collections of the Earl of Minto and other connoisseurs and the belief of the police that the thefts have been instigated by a wealthy, crazy collector who has hired the most expert picture thieves in the world for his purpose.

London detectives point out that in every instance where these robberies have occurred it has always been the most famous masterpiece that has been taken. Furthermore, that there is no market in the recognized art world for stolen world-famous pictures.

No ordinary thief can detect what is a priceless Romney or Rubens, or what is a mere copy. "There is only one possible theory," says the head of one of London's greatest detective agencies.

"It is that these robberies are being undertaken by a faultlessly dressed, beautiful-spoken modern Raffles who not only knows the pictures but is also familiar with the houses in which they have been resting."

"And, also, he must be acting for some wealthy collector who is willing to give almost full value for a masterpiece which, once stolen, can only be hung in a very private gallery."

"Our theory is that there are one or two wealthy Americans—we say Americans advisedly because probably no other people have sufficient money—who are acquiring secret galleries of masterpieces in this manner."

"Their collections may be in New York. They may be in Chicago or somewhere in the Middle West. But we are assured that these people do exist who are ready to give full market price in order to hold and gaze secretly at the world's masterpiece."

COMMITTEE LIST CORRECTION MADE

In reporting the committee of the grand jury, which organized yesterday, one committee was inadvertently omitted, and the name of the chairman of a second committee was attached to the wrong committee.

Oscar Waring, of Laguna Beach, is chairman of the roads and county superintendent of highways committee. Instead of E. O. Fulson, of Agarden Grove, Fulson heads the committee on cities, city treasurers, city owned public utilities, constables and justice of the peace, which was omitted in the report.

NEW YORK STOCKS

NEW YORK, Nov. 19.—(UP)—Stocks advanced today despite a national strike scare. Previously the market had been up one to four points, with many stocks at new highs since last week's recovery.

Trading volume was above yesterday. Highest grade shares led the advance, with the steel industry, Westinghouse reaching 104, up 2 1/2, on expectations earnings would run $6.50 a share this year. American Can which reached 117, up 1 1/2; Allied Chemical, which touched 219.

Best issues in the railroad division rose in the late trading, New York Central being up 1 1/2, New Haven 3, Drexel & Hudson 3 1/2, Baltimore & Ohio 1 1/2 and Pennsylvania one point. Quotations furnished by Bacon, Wardell & Company, 107 W. Sixth St., Santa Ana, Calif. Phone 4068

Money—2 percent.

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 19.—UP—Lower prices for a large number of vegetable lines prevailed on the Los Angeles produce market today.

Good Pueblo avocados brought 18-20 cents and a few 22 cents, with smaller sizes at 16 to 18 cents.

Beans were a little more plentiful and dull at 6-7 cents lb. for Kentucky wonder from San Diego county, with a few at 8 cents. Local limas brought 4-5 cents.

Local cabbage was 60-75 cents a crate. Local cauliflower was 50-65 cents for field crates.

Few local Brunswick figs continued to move at 8-12 cents lb. Grapes remained practically unchanged.

Imperial valley grapefruit held steady at 8.50-9.75 a box for the fancy grade, with market pack at generally 2.00-2.25.

Some San Fernando leek lettuce of only fair quality at 1.50-1.75. Local loose lettuce brought mostly 75-1.00 a crate. Good Santa Maria lettuce was 1.75-2.00.

Local Spanish onions were 75-90 cents per cwt., with a few at 85 cents. Navel oranges moved very slowly at 2.50-4.00 a box for medium to large loose navel, with a few at 4.25.

Good Imperial valley and San Diego county pears jobbed at 5-6 cents lb., with a few at 7 cents.

SHERLOCK HOLMES—The Greek Interpreter

Latimer and his accomplice fled from the house with the girl when they found their secret was out, and they could not force the brother. But first they took vengeance both upon Krafides, who had betrayed their plot. But we were to learn more.

A curious newspaper clipping came to Sherlock Holmes weeks later from Budapest. What it related was the last in this strange drama of crime—the revenge of the girl Sophy Krafides upon Latimer and the fellow-conspirator, who apparently had been dragging their victim through obscure parts of Europe.

© 1930 By Sir Arthur Conan Doyle

THE GIRL TURNED UPON THE MEN WITH A DAGGER. HOLMES RECONSTRUCTED THE SCENE IN A DINGY HOTEL SUITE, "WHEN THEY WERE HALF STUPID A FEW FEET APART. FROM THE ACCOUNT, I THINK THE KILLED THE OTHER MAN FIRST, AS HE SLUMPED AT THE TABLE. THEN HE GRAPPLED WITH LATIMER, AND IN A DESPERATE STRUGGLE PLUNGED HIS WEAPON INTO HIS HEART, AND FLED UNSEEN."

THE END

ORANGE GROVE TERMS

On this nine acres there is a $25,000.00 mortgage, payable $2000.00 a year for two years and $1000.00 per year for the balance thereafter. Did you ever hear of such liberal terms, especially on a nine year old grove of valencias, improved with modern stucco and the other accessories that go with such a place? Another interesting point is that an exchange to a limited amount will be taken on the equity held by the present owner. You can't go wrong here, the place will pay for itself. Try it and see. ORDINANCES FOR GOOD OF ALL

Sometime ago, the owner of the bus lines in the city complained that the taxi service in Santa Ana was interfering with his bus service by the taxis picking up people enroute to or from a call, who were waiting for the regular bus service. He further complained that the taxi was calling at more than one home for a load when out for service, and objected to this.

At his suggestion, the city council passed an ordinance providing for the control of the taxi business. The taxi men have been conforming to the conditions of that ordinance. The owner of the bus lines, however, has maintained that some of the conditions in this ordinance, which he was instrumental in getting through the council, were being violated, and as a matter of fact, he became the complaining witness in such a case.

It seems that the taxi service in Santa Ana is not as expensive as the bus owner would like to have it, and that in spite of the restrictions of the ordinance, many people use the taxi service in preference to the bus service. The bus owner wrote a letter to one, if not all, of the taxi men recently, threatening that if they did not establish certain rates and conform to other things that he had been insisting on in this ordinance, he would demand a license to run a taxi from the city council and as he was in the bus business and not in the taxi business, he implied he would cut the life out of it, so as to ruin their business. In conformity with this, he applied Monday evening to the city council for the privilege of conducting a taxi service. The character of his writings and utterances generally would indicate that for some reason or other, he believes the city council will do what he wants them to do.

It is a rather strange situation. One begins to wonder whether the owner of these bus lines is really running this part of our city's life or whether our city council is doing it. Certainly the bus owner believes that he is doing it through the city council.

If there is a violation of the ordinance by taxi drivers or anyone else that ought to be stopped, the city authorities should look after it. But certainly an ordinance which is not deemed necessary, or the provisions of which are not important, should not be passed on behalf of one man for the purpose of having him work out a business policy and permitting him to direct and control and harass people for his own ends. The bus owner has undoubtedly more money than the people who are engaged in the taxi service.

But there is no public necessity of more taxi services in the city of Santa Ana any more than there is necessity for other people to go into the bus service. And certainly if any man should suggest that he was going into the bus service to punish or to force the bus owner to do certain things like raising rates or anything of the kind, the city council would not be justified in granting such a privilege.

We believe the city council has passed the ordinance, which it did pass, in the interest of the public good, and because they believed that it would be helpful to the citizens of Santa Ana to have the service regulated. This, we believe, was the object of the passage of the ordinance, but the bus owner seems to think it was passed for his particular needs and uses, and is using it as a matter of fact as his personal instrument.

Now he comes to the city council to grant him further power to control the taxi service. We believe the city council should regulate the taxi service, as they should regulate the bus service, but they should serve notice upon the bus owner that they, and not he, will regulate the service of the city, and that they do not propose to give him the privilege to ruin the opportunities that the taxi men have of making a livelihood.

If the city council grants this privilege to the bus owner they might just as well pass an ordinance plainly and frankly appointing the owner of the bus lines to the directorship of transportation in Santa Ana to carry it on as his desires and caprices would suggest.

One man has as much a right to be in business as another, and no man should attempt to use the city organization for his own personal business purposes. We are very confident that the city council itself will not permit this.

The estate of the late Caruso still realizes about $150,000 a year from his phonograph records, says a news item. Now posterity will concede he had a golden voice.

WORKERS CALLED BACK

Certainly the news of 4,000 workers called to work in Detroit must have cheered millions of people as they read the announcement in yesterday's papers. Not because the 4,000 workers are so important compared with the large number of unemployed, but because it is such a sign of returning confidence in business.

When body workers and automobile workers are called back to the shops, it is because orders are coming in, and they need more help, and these orders evidence a better condition coming to pass in the country. It is the time for each to do his duty. All should aid in helping the various committees that have been formed, county and city, to better organize for prosperity's return.

NOT LEADERS OF OPINION

According to today's reports, the members of the Bar Association in the country voted by numbers 13,779 to 6,340 for a repeal of the Eighteenth Amendment. We are glad to know, however, that the Bar Association does not, as a rule, upon such questions, by any means represent a cross section of public thought or votes. The people do not follow the Bar Association in their voting.

This was well illustrated here in Orange County, for the Bar all but unanimously came out with a statement which could be construed only as an endorsement of a certain candidate for sheriff, and he was defeated by nearly 5,000 votes. Most of the lawyers whose names were signed to the statement were here in Santa Ana, and this candidate was defeated in Santa Ana by some 1000 odd votes.

Two-thirds of Congress and seven-ninths of the United States Senate stand arrayed against this attitude that the Bar Association assumes, and these men in Congress and the United States Senate were elected by the people, most of them after contests on this very question.

In contrast to the vote of the Bar Association, it is probable that 90 per cent of the ministers of the county are in favor of the Eighteenth Amendment, and if two denominations were eliminated, the attitude would approach unanimity on behalf of the Eighteenth Amendment. On a question of morals and ethics, we believe the ministers are more trustworthy guides than the lawyers. If it were a question of law, the attorneys would be in the realm where we would be safe in following their opinion.

A sure way to be left in the cold, says Margin Max, is to take a hot tip on the market.

THE ROUND TABLE CRISIS

Finally at the Indian Round Table conference, in London, there comes out the real conflict. Lord William Peel, former secretary for India, is the one whose blunt speech to the delegates gathered to consider India's future was made.

Great Britain is in a terrible situation with the extremists in India declaring for absolute freedom and independence, and refusing to be represented in the Round Table, and with the conservatives, who are friendly to dominion status, sitting in. It is recognized that the British government must keep them in line by all odds, for if they return and throw their strength along with Gandhi and his followers, the situation will become infinitely worse.

Great Britain is confronted with the problem that is the result of not granting early the things that were demanded, and letting conditions drift until the things that they are now willing to grant are no longer satisfying. There is no question but what dominion status, worked out on some fair program, would meet with the approval of the outside world, even though it did not represent the spirit of Gandhi and others of his leaders. But that part of it will have to be granted magnificently, and "without strings tied to it," or they will produce a union such that Great Britain will be forced to grant infinitely more and finally the complete independence of India.

Romance Awry

Riverside Enterprise

While large numbers of English towns and villages are attempting to recapture some of the more glamorous aspects of the Middle Ages by means of local pageants and tableaux, Hungary is making an official effort after the same object in restoring one of the most picturesque institutions of olden days—the corps of minstrels, whose task is to incite the national army to deeds of valor and to sing its praises.

It is hardly to be expected that this modern corps of minstrels will occupy so notable a position as its predecessors, whose story forms one of the most romantic chapters in medieval history. But this incongruity, which everyone must feel, between the ancient minstrel and the modern army illustrates a vital problem in education. A great deal of time is given in the schools to the study of the wars of medieval and of semi-medieval days, so closely linked with tales of chivalry that the child is likely to get a picture of war as being glamorous, attractive and even enjoyable. Such stories as those of Taillefer and Robert Bruce, and of battles between armies of knights so thoroughly encased in armor that a whole day's hard fighting often resulted in comparatively few casualties, insensibly color the conception of modern war, and later on subtly minimize the protection that, for example, the Briand-Kellogg pact gives, by suggesting that the warfare from which it is designed to save humanity is not so terrible after all.

The first impressions that children gain are among the most important things in the world; and teachers should exercise care to prevent the youthful thought from supposing that there is much resemblance between war in the twelfth and war in the twentieth century.

Citrus Industry Is Vast Asset

Pasadena Star-News

The citrus industry has grown to enormous proportions here in Southern California. An aggregate crop return for the last year of approximately $125,000,000 is indicated. This is an increase of more than $14,000,000 in Southern California production. While the yield of oranges was somewhat below normal, this decreased production was more than offset by the higher prices obtained for the fruit.

Receipts from citrus fruits are a huge asset to this Southernland. Crop proceeds come into this section and go into healthy circulation here. Not only the grower profits but, taking the citrus belt over and including the packing houses, there is a very large payroll in this section coming from the citrus industry.

Growth of the citrus industry in Southern California has been remarkable. Gross proceeds are well beyond $100,000,000 annually. Orchards are better cultivated and are better protected against frost and against insects and parasitic pests than ever before.

It should be a source of pride to Californians to contemplate the fact that this state produces two-thirds of all the oranges grown in the United States; this state produces all of the lemons and about five per cent of the grapefruit grown in the United States.

More Truth Than Poetry

By James J. Montague

ROUGH ON ROMANCE

The dames who dwell, in days of yore,
In homes with many gables
Almost invariably wore
Rich coats of Russian sables.
This pelt, so glossy, thick and dark,
To novelists was vital
Because it was the certain mark
Of affluence and title.

Great villains, whose disdainful gloats
Sent thrills through all beholders,
Were always wrapping sable coats
About their wicked shoulders.
As well might live a Bedouin
Without his trusty camel
As fiction crooks without the skin
Of this expensive mammal.

At Monte Carlo, titled folk
Who sat about the tables
Put up for stakes, when they were broke,
Their rare and priceless sables.
And if they lost, took poison (which
They always had about them),
Because the great romantic rich
Could not exist without them.

And now, though novelists demur,
And playwrights face a crisis,
The Reds declare they'll sell this fur
At less than bargain prices.
So, with a shudder of despair
I close my tragic story:
What now can fiction's figures wear
To prove their wealth and glory?

Are We Extravagant?

Many bankers in high authority condemn the people of the United States for "extravagance." Especially do they condemn them for spending too much during the years 1927 to 1929.

But even in that prosperous period, the people as a whole spent too little. They saved too much—too much in proportion to what they spent—too much in the form of capital goods.

In other words, they put more savings into mills, mines, and machines than their rate of spending called for. They saved more productive equipment than they have since found any way of using. Every banker knows that.

So does every tanner, baker, spinner, miner, contractor, planter—and everybody else. Ask your next door neighbor about his own industry. No matter what it is, he will tell you that it is equipped to produce more than consumers will buy.

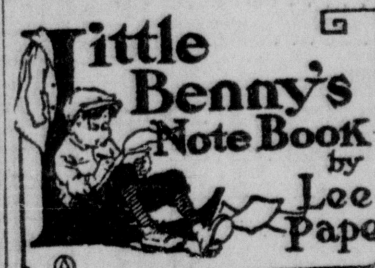

If the people of the United States, as a whole, really had been extravagant spenders in the two years of prosperity that preceded the stock market crash, a rise of commodity prices would have announced the fact. But there was no rise. On the contrary, there was a marked decline.

There is always inflation of commodity prices when dollars go to market faster than goods. That is what happened during the years 1917 to 1920.

On the other hand, there is always deflation when the flow of dollars does not keep pace with the flow of goods. As a matter of statistical record, the period 1927 to 1929 was a period of deflation. Consumers were not buying wealth as rapidly as they were creating wealth. Moreover, they were exporting, for consumption abroad, more wealth than they were receiving from abroad.

By no stretch of the imagination can such self-denial be called "extravagance."

Me and Puds Simkins had a debate around the lam post about weather its more fun to east in a resturant than what it is to go on a picknick, me saying it was and Puds saying it wasent, saying, Holey smokes, you cant get hard boll eggs in a resturant unless you get them all cut up and spread around where they dont belong, and even if you could order them you wouldnt dast order 6, and whats 6 hard boll eggs on a picknick? Nothing, he sed.

Yes, and supposing you go on a picknick and it rains, then where are you? I sed. In the rain, thats where, but if your in a resturant and it rains your still in the resturant, I sed. And besides when you go on a picknick you know everything your going to have in advants, but in a resturant you cant tell what kind of surprises your going to get till you look at the bill of fare, I sed.

O yes, and then its libel to be some kind of a surprise you wish it wasent, Puds sed. Its libel to have some kind of a fancy name like polly voo fransay and then turn out to be spinnitch, he sed.

Well a big resturant mite have a swell orkester playing all a time, I sed.

Well you cant eat a orkester, can you? Puds sed, and I sed, No, but you can keep time to it with your jaws and have as much fun as if you was marching in a parade, I sed.

Thoughts On Modern Life

By GLENN FRANK

IT PAYS TO KEEP MEN BUSY

Yesterday I spoke of the efforts being made by our more far-sighted manufacturers to regularize employment by scheduling their total production output in twelve measurably equal monthly parts, by co-operating with retailers to induce consumers to distribute their purchases more evenly throughout the year, by the building up of side-lines that will keep their plants busy in off seasons, and so on.

Today I want to emphasize the obvious but all-too-often overlooked fact that the regularization of employment is not only a good thing for the masses but a good thing for the masses but as well.

It is good business to keep men busy.

Paul H. Douglas, to whose significant study of real wages in the United States from 1890 to 1926 I referred the other day, suggests, in the September issue of The American Labor Legislation Review, that employers who have successfully regularized employment by regularizing their production schedules have found that such policies have saved them money for the following reasons:

(1) They are enabled to expand the total volume of their business without a corresponding increase in capital equipment and to grow through a fuller utilization of the plant during what would otherwise be slack months. While they will need more storage space for a given yearly output than before, they will nevertheless need less factory space. Factory space is more costly than is shortage because it has machinery while the latter has merely empty air.

(2) They are enabled to maintain a relatively stable working force and thus reduce the costs of labor turnover. Where business fluctuates widely large groups of workers are hired only to be regurgitated when the slack period arrives. When this in turn gives away to the busy season the firm must in the main hire new workers and go to all the expense of breaking them in. This loss is avoided by the stabilization of jobs leaving only the losses from the instability of men.

(3) They are generally enabled, because of offering more weeks of employment a year than their competitors, to pay their workers a somewhat lower hourly rate. This is not a loss to the workers, for this diminution is generally not proportional to the increase in employment which is given them. The workers thus receive higher yearly incomes while the employers obtain lower labor costs per piece. The gains of regularization are thus split both ways.

OUR CHILDREN

By ANGELO PATRI

PRAISE

When in doubt what to do with an uneasy child, praise him. Find something fine in him and tell him about it. You cannot spoil a child by telling him that he is good. He is good. If there were not more good in him than had you could never live with him. A child is normally good and it does him good to be told so.

The child is strengthened by praise. When he hears something good of himself he is at once refreshed. A feeling of satisfaction flows over him. His spirits rise. His body is toned up. Ambition stirs. He likes this feeling of efficiency, of well being, and he wants to do something big in order to be hailed again as "good."

There is a genuine tonic in praise. Digestion is helped. Appetite is improved. The breathing is easier and the heart action is rapid and strong. The blood stream flows along happily and the child's whole being is bettered. Praise is better than a bottle of medicine.

Then don't spare it. Sing the child's praises whenever there is an opportunity and let him know it. When he gets a good mark in school tell about it. Many a parent hastens to tell grandmother and Aunt Nell about the badness of the youngster but forgets all about the goodness. Forget the badness and dwell on the goodness and things will brighten. Anyway it is good to remember that people are helped by hearing good words about others. Praise passed along helps the whole group.

A child needs to feel competent.

ent. When he falls comfort him and tell him that by and by he will do better. Tell him to keep on trying. Didn't he do well last week in that hard test in spelling? Well, next week he will do better in this hard geography. When a fellow studies he can't help getting good marks. Think of all the good marks he got last year, and so far this year there are these and these good ones.

When the first ache of failure is over take the child aside and go over the situation carefully. Discover the cause of his failure and strengthen it. Make certain that the child knows where the trouble was, help him to make it good, stand by until you see that his courage has returned full tide, and then send him on his way with a good word.

Teach a child to use his mistakes as stepping stones. They point out something to him and if he is an intelligent child, and he can benefit by them. No body knows everything. Mistakes are common to us all but the successful one is he who stops and considers his way and rights himself.

Then instead of finding fault with the children when they make mistakes, help them by telling them of the good things they have done. Praise them for what they have done so that they have courage to do better things in the days to come. Praise never spoiled a child. Scoldings have injured many. Praise lifts the heart so praise mightily. (Copyright, 1930, The Bell Syn., Inc.)

On Nov. 19, 1831, James A. Garfield, 20th president of the United States, was born in a log cabin at Hiram, O.

He was left fatherless when two years of age and his early schooling was frequently interrupted by periods of labor necessary for earning the means of support and education. He finally succeeded in graduating from Williams college with high honors in 1856. He taught Latin and Greek for a period, studying law in the meantime and was admitted to the bar in 1861.

His political career began in 1859 when he was elected as a Republican to the state senate. During the Civil war he rose from colonel to major general through his heroism in battle. In 1880 he was elected to the U. S. senate and in the same year was elected president of the United States.

After holding office a few months, he was shot by an assassin in a Washington railway station. He is buried in Cleveland, where his tomb is marked by a memorial erected in 1890 by public subscription at a cost of about $25,000. Harry A. Garfield, son of the late president, is president of Williams college.
